BY GRAFTON S. WILCOX.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—(Special.)—The size of the regular army fixed by both houses of congress today at 175,000 men.
By a vote of 41 to 33 the senate reversed its action of Friday reducing the strength of the army to 150,000 men. It repassed the New resolution directing the secretary of war to suspend enlistments until a reduction to 175,000 men was accomplished.
A few minutes later the house, by almost unanimous vote, adopted a similar resolution. The measure now goes to the president, who, in view of the opposition of the war department, is expected to veto it. Prospects are that it will be passed over the veto by wide margin.
It's an Economy Measure.
The resolution was urged on the ground of economy. It is expected to save the government approximately $10,000,000 a year. The size of the army today is about 235,000 men. Under the provisions of the resolution it will reach the 175,000 minimum by next September.
The changing of the senate's mind was effected largely by the testimony of Secretary of War Baker and Gen. Pershing before the military affairs committee and by the telegrams of protest against reduction of the army's size to 150,000 men. Protests came from organizations throughout the country. Mr. Baker considered the reduction to 150,000 would be destructive to the basic plans of army organization and Gen. Pershing thought it would be unsafe to go below 200,000 men in the reduction. Among the telegrams of protest received by the senate today was one from the army and navy committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, signed by Charles S. Dewey and George M. Spangler. They wanted regular army of not less than 200,000 men.
Japanese Question Up.
Much of the debate today revolved about the Japanese question. Senator Reed of Missouri and Senator Williams of Mississippi ridiculed the idea of a "yellow peril," while Senator Phelan of California warned the senate that the necessity for large garrisons in the possessions was greater now than ever. Senator Reed said that Japan never would dare to attack the United States without the aid of Great Britain.
"And if there is any danger of that," he said, "this measure for 175,000 men is useless; we should begin preparing for war on a scale never before seen in this country."
In reply to Senator Phelan, who spoke about the importance of cable communication via the island of Yap, Senator Williams said:
"Three-fourths of the senators don't know where Yap is. Yet we're going to pay for a big army and pay against the Japanese and pay against an army of 150,000."
Senator Borah, Idaho, charged that the purpose of maintaining a large standing army was to use it for political purposes in the United States.
Gratitude to Disabled Veterans.
Borah strongly criticized the government's alleged failure adequately to care for disabled veterans of the war with Germany.
Senator Reed interrupted to say the government, in some instances, has not war veterans into almshouses.
"Notwithstanding the whitewash investigation recently held," he said, "I know that to be a fact. It happened in Chicago."
The only votes against the proposal in the house were by Deo of Texas, Hamilton of Alabama, Coady of Maryland and Cramton of Michigan. There were 285 votes for the limitation.
Secretary Baker told the house military affairs committee some days ago that the army now has about 224,000 men. He asked for a deficiency appropriation of about $70,000,000 for the army for the present year. It was stated in the house that about $50,000,000 of this was for pay.
Accepts Congress' First Pledge.
The army reorganization bill passed by the Republican congress last spring called for an army of 250,000 men. The appropriation bill passed later carried pay for 175,000 men. It was thought by the Republicans that Secretary Baker would not recruit the army beyond the size provided for in the military reorganization bill, and refused to subject himself to criticism for not bringing the country up to a condition of preparedness provided by law.

Envoy's Auto Fails Him.
"It was learned an emissary of the crown prince then left Holland by a secret route, using an automobile, which failed him at the frontier, and he returned to Holland several days later."
"Then new meetings were held at the Hotel Oude Graaf and the emissary returned then to the residence of the crown prince."
"It was in the hotel he was recently surprised by police agents. An examination of papers found on him revealed a scheme of extremely compromising for the former emperor and crown prince."
Ex-Emperor is Sinking.
THE HAGUE, Jan. 17.—The former German Emperor Augustus Victoria is reported to be in a very serious condition today. She suffered a relapse immediately after the former Crown Prince Frederick William, who had been visiting her, returned to Wieringen.
Prussian Royalists Busy.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—A Prussian royalist party has been formed in Berlin and has been chosen to bring the "Orchestra" into line with similar movements in other states, the Berlin correspondent of the London Times says. The Leipzig Tageblatt explains that the Orchestral in Saxony will be transformed into a political party to act as a compromise between the extreme political camps.

M'CORMICK BACK FROM 9 WEEKS' VISIT IN EUROPE
New York, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—United States Senator Medill McCormick, Illinois, returning to America after nine weeks in Europe, left the steamship Imperator at quarantine, coming ashore on the revenue cutter Hudson. He went to the home of Frederick Winthrop Allen, 8 East Seventy-second street, where he conferred, among others, with George Porter of Chicago.
Senator McCormick will go to Washington tomorrow, arriving at 4 p. m. and going direct to the senate chamber. He said he did not intend to be interviewed on his trip until he had opportunity to discuss the European situation as it affected the United States with some of his colleagues. It was intimated that the material he gathered might be made public for the first time in a speech in the senate.
Senator McCormick said the Imperator had a rough trip and passed through six severe storms.

SEAPLANE SAFE; U. S. AVIATORS RIDE OUT STORM
San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, Jan. 17.—The crew of the United States naval seaplane NC-6 and their machine are safe in a cave about fifteen miles north of San Juan Del Sur.
Lieut. Compo, commander of the seaplane, and his chief mechanic mate, Hickforth, arrived here this evening to report to the convoy ship, having left the machine with the remainder of the crew in the cave.
On Saturday morning a tremendous hurricane began to blow from the northeast and continued all day Sunday. The NC-6 and the NC-6, flying together, ran into the hurricane Saturday night about forty miles north of San Juan Del Sur. Both machines were forced to alight on the surface of the ocean, which was lashed into fury by the wind, which lifted the water up in spirals.
"The NC-6" taxied to the shore under tremendous difficulties. The NC-5, when last seen by the NC-6, was having engine trouble.
Earlier dispatches said the crew of the NC-5 had been rescued.

chine," the leader of the outlaws directed. "And be damned quick about it."

The railroad and postoffice attaches complied.

"Much obliged," said the leader of the bandits. "And so long."

Bandits Make Escape.

He leaped into his machine with his accomplices and the car vanished, traveling south in Canal street.

"Stop that machine!"

But the outlaws' leader brandished his revolver and before the onlookers could get within 100 feet the car was out of sight. None even obtained the license number.

Description of Robbers.

The following is a description of the robbers sent to all police stations early this morning:

No. 1—About 20 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, of stocky build, smooth face, dark complexion. Wore an army overcoat and a black cap among other articles.

No. 2—About 22 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, 135 pounds, slim build, dark complexion. Wore a dark overcoat and cap among other articles.

No description was given of the third and fourth men. The last was the chauffeur, who remained in the automobile, a dark car with the curtains drawn.

Driver Seen Robbery.

Michael Bowman of 2584 Warren avenue, a driver for THE TRIBUNE, was at the Union station at the time and witnessed the robbery. He saw a black automobile stop at Canal and Monroe streets about twenty feet from the main trunk and the men alight.

When the men got out Bowman gave a quick glance at them. He noticed one of them wore an army overcoat and that they were all men about 25 years old and of stocky build.

Bowman continued to unload his wagon, not suspecting a robbery was to be enacted. A few minutes later he saw the men run and get into the automobile. A man was following them, but stopped when the last of the robbers, the one who was wearing the army overcoat, pointed a revolver at him and ordered the men not to follow any further.

"The thing was done so quietly I did not know what was happening until I saw the men run and get into the machine," Bowman said. "I did not know it was a holdup until I saw a stockily built man wearing an army overcoat draw a revolver and halt a man who was following them as they left in the machine. I think I can identify the robber who wore the army overcoat."

Police Rifles Take Trail.

Within a few minutes after the robbery occurred squads of city detectives from the Desplaines street station and detective bureau were on the scene of the robbery. Armed with rifles, Lieut. John Ryan, Detective Sergeant Jensen, Laurell, Cusack, Gratton, and Christella of the bureau toured the west side in an auto in search of the bandits and their car.

Meantime a score of postoffice operatives hurried from the chief inspector's office and took up the job of questioning other drivers and checking up on delivery men who have been recently discharged or left the service.

City detectives believe the robbers are former employees or received their information from an employee familiar with the transferring of the registered pouches, which are known as "reds" to employees of the postoffice.

Nipped One Robbery.

Recently two men were arrested by Detective Sergeant Gratton, Cusack, Knowles, and O'Neill of the detective bureau and operatives from the post-office inspector's office as they were about to rob a mail wagon at Eighteenth street and Indiana avenue.

One of the men told the postal officials "it would be soft to get away with some of the reds" and that they were "handled in a careless way."

ONLY ONE OF SERIES.

Postal authorities and the police believe an organized band of mail thieves who are well acquainted with the government's system of handling of valuable mail, even down to the train and car on which it will be shipped, are working under a master mind systematically to loot the mails.

Several months ago the first robbery, which started a series, occurred at Pullman on the Illinois Central railroad. At that time a registered mail pouch containing $100,000 was stolen as it reached the bottom of a mail chute in the station. The thieves were there waiting for it.

Steal $85,000 More.

On Jan. 14 at Mount Vernon, Ill., thieves believed to be members of the same gang stole registered mail valued at $85,000. The same persons are also thought to have stolen a mail pouch containing $50,000 which disappeared between Racine, Wis., and Chicago on Jan. 12. The money had been consigned from the Manufacturers' and National bank of Racine to the Federal reserve bank here.

The largest amount of money obtained by mail thieves was through a robbery that occurred between Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia., on the night of Nov. 13. The loot is declared to have amounted to $550,000.

JAPS MOLESTING SAILORS AGAIN; U. S. TO PROTEST

First Story of Killing Has Exonerated American.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—(Special.)—Two uniformed Americans have been held up in Vladivostok by Japanese sentries since the killing of Lieut. Warren H. Langdon by a Japanese soldier on Jan. 8, it was learned today.

The report states that two American sailors, who were ordered ashore to search for the revolver worn by Lieut. Langdon, and that they were challenged and held by Japanese soldiers until they were identified.

There is reason to believe that the state department in its note to Tokyo expected strongly to the Japanese practice of holding up American uniformed men in Vladivostok.

Tokio May Consult Army.

The Japanese foreign office has not yet replied, but it is thought there will be a prompt answer, although the Tokyo authorities may be obliged to refer to the American note to the war office and the general staff for their views on certain phases.

It is also possible the state department will forward a second note in view of the interference by Japanese with American seamen since the shooting of Lieut. Langdon.

The state department gave out further details of the Langdon affair.

Detailed Story of Shooting.

"The court of inquiry convened by the Japanese government," the statement says, "seems to establish that the sentry left his post, and molested a uniformed officer proceeding in an orderly manner along the street."

"The shooting took place opposite headquarters of the Japanese 11th division, on Peter the Great street, about 4 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 8. According to Lieut. Langdon's own account he was descending the steep, icy sidewalk on the west side of the street, using an electric pocket flashlight continuously in order to find his way."

"When he arrived opposite headquarters on the east side of the street the Japanese sentry came running across and called out 'American!' Lieut. Langdon answered in the affirmative and proceeded on his way."

"The sentry, according to Lieut. Langdon, without further challenge discharged his rifle at a distance of about six feet, with the rifle held at the position 'charge bayonet.' The surgeon found the ball had ranged upward, emerging above the heart."

"After the sentry fired, according to Lieut. Langdon's story, Langdon was whipped out his revolver, turned and discharged two shots at the sentry, and then made his way to his ship."

"Lieut. Langdon was fully conscious when he was taken to the hospital. He was a total abstainer and was not under the influence of alcohol at any time."

Slayer Changes Story.

Admiral Gleason today sent the following message to the navy department from Manila:

"Report of Japanese court of inquiry received. Court recommends court martial for sentry. Sentry so changed his testimony during the court of inquiry that his testimony and Langdon's ante-mortem statement practically coincide."

U. S. NOTE KEPT SECRET.

TOKIO, Jan. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Government officials have been public the text of the American note protesting against the shooting of Lieut. W. H. Langdon by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok.

Publishers, however, express the belief that Washington has not only asked reparation with guarantees removing a probability of similar incidents in future, but also has again pointed out to Japan the wisdom of reducing, if not withdrawing altogether, her troops from the country where she possesses no sovereign rights, but the littoral of which is dominated by the text of the American note.

This would open the old thorny question which Japan, herself, has been finding difficult in settling. A division of opinion exists in government circles as to the Siberian problem, it is reported here.

Common Law Wife a Suicide.

VLADIVOSTOK, Jan. 17.—Lieut. Langdon's wife, whom he married under the Russian common law, committed suicide by shooting when informed of Langdon's death. She was the widow of a Russian officer slain by the bolsheviks.

Battle Over Ability to Make Wine; One May Die.

Rivalry between Joseph Klein, owner of a grocery at 1608 Larabee street, and Kolman Toth, owner of a coffee shop at 1491 Larabee street, which started when Klein asserted that his home made wine was better than that made by Toth, led to a fight in which Klein was probably fatally injured last night. He was struck on the head with a hammer by Toth, who was arrested.

SEVERE DEFEAT ON BRUSA LINE

Kemal Captures 6,000, Routes 4 Divisions.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 17.—The Greek army operating on the Thrace front has suffered a severe defeat on the plain of Eskişehir in a three day and night counter attack by the Kemalists.

The latest Greek offensive had established a line from Yenisehr through Bilejik and Seugud and had threatened Eskişehir, which was important because, if captured, it meant the cutting of communications between Ankara and Konak.

Military observers here consider the Hellenic offensive a tactical move, probably ordered by King Constantine in an endeavor to prove to the allies that his army was as effective under him as it was during the Venizelos regime.

Kemal Well Supplied.

The strength of the Kemalists was no surprise, as it was known that 50,000 troops were released when Armenia turned bolshevik. In addition important supplies have been secured through the Caucasus and by way of Novorossysk and Trebizond. It is estimated that the forces under Mustafa Kemal Pasha will soon exceed 150,000, as ten new classes recently have been called to the colors.

SOMMERS ASKS WILSON PARDON ON RUM CHARGE

Hotel Man Jailed for 15 Months by Landis.

Charles M. Sommers, owner of the Birchmont hotel, the first owner of a large cafe to be sentenced to Leavenworth for whisky sales, applied yesterday to President Wilson for a pardon after serving two months of his fifteen month sentence.

Sommers pleads that his punishment is excessive, and that he is unable to take care of his business behind prison walls. He states that unless he is able to take care of his business personally it will be ruined.

An appointment, that an execution has just been levelled on Sommers' whisky business, home to collect a $10,000 fine imposed by Judge Landis, was made by District Attorney Clyne just as the news of the hotel man's attempt to obtain a pardon was received.

Clyne Will Fight Pardon.

"He's finding the penitentiary a worse place than he thought," declared Mr. Clyne. "We shall fight every effort made to give him his freedom until his term is served."

Sommers and his cousin, William Sommers, manager of the Birchmont hotel, were arrested after it was revealed that boys and porters had carried liquor from the hotel to the St. James grill, also owned by Sommers. There the liquor was sold to patrons.

Fifteen barrels were seized in one raid by federal authorities.

John and William McGovern, owners of the Liberty cafe on Clark and Erie streets, who were sentenced to serve two years each in the house of correction by Judge Landis Saturday, were released on bail by Judge George T. Page. They will file an appeal in the higher court this week. Their bail was set at $5,000 each.

Another smashing blow at the illicit liquor traffic in Chicago will be dealt by the attorney general's department on the return of Judge Landis from La Crosse, Wis., the first of next month.

Assistant Attorney General Middlekauff last night announced at least fifty additional injunction suits against saloons and breweries would be filed under the provisions of the abatement clause of the Volstead act.

Home Brew Ruling Not New.

Commenting on the decision received by the internal revenue office in Detroit that all home brewed were subject to a $1,000 fine, even where there is no sale as evidence or consumption, dry agents said a similar ruling had been in effect here several months. The national prohibition act provides a straight penalty of $1,000 for operating a still or other apparatus for making intoxicating liquor. There provides a straight penalty of $1,000 for year, provided according to the number of months the still has been operated. Thus, if a man had operated a still for six months, his total fines and assessments would amount to $1,500.

The quantity of home brew manufactured is also measured, and taxed at the rate of $12.50 per gallon of "moonshine."

ASK MOVING DECISION

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—(Special.)—The right of the owner of liquor legally acquired before the Volstead act became effective, but whose goods are in distilleries' warehouses, to withdraw them for home consumption is to be tested in the United States Supreme court.

An announcement to this effect was made today by counsel for J. J. Podesta, attorney at law, to whom Prohibition Commissioner Kramer this afternoon denied a permit for the withdrawal of a single barrel of whisky now stored in a Kentucky warehouse.

Want Court to Order Permit.

A mandamus proceeding, it is announced, will be brought to compel the prohibition commissioner to issue a permit on the ground that failure to do so amounts to confiscation by the government of private property and that whereas the Volstead act intends to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, it was not intended to prevent consumption by the owners of liquor legally acquired before that law was enacted.

If the courts support the view taken by counsel for Podesta, at least 70 per cent of the liquor in distillery warehouses may be withdrawn by its owners for personal consumption. Several Chicagoans are said to have joined Mr. Podesta in the suit.

Recalls Previous Case.

The Podesta case recalled the fact that on Nov. 8, 1920, the Supreme court held that liquor acquired before such purchase was made illegal and stored in a commercial warehouse could be moved from that place to a home for private use.

The case decided then was that of William G. Street of New York, to whom lower courts had denied an injunction against officers that blocked the transfer of liquor from a rented room in the building of a safety deposit company to his home.

Booze Outlaws an Auto.

Seizure of automobiles or other conveyances in which liquors are transported illegally is authorized no matter if the owner of the conveyance has been found innocent of contravening the law, the supreme court held today in deciding a case from Georgia.

Justice McKenna, who read the opinion of the court, went back to the Mosale statutes for initial justification of the governments contention, quoting from the ancient tablets to the effect that "if an ox gove a man that he die, the ox shall be stoned and his flesh not eaten." From that day to the present, the court held, the instrument or facility used in violation of the law has been subject to condemnation.

WASHINGTON NEWS - IN BRIEF -

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—By a vote of 41 to 33, the senate reversed its action of last Friday reducing the army to 150,000 men, and fixed it at 175,000. The measure goes to the president, who is expected to veto it. The prospects are that it will be passed over his veto. The army now numbers about 235,000.

The opposition of one man, Representative Blanton of Texas, today prevented the consideration of the bill authorizing the treasury to refund duties collected on held kitchens imported from Canada.

The right of the owner of liquor legally acquired before the Volstead act became effective to withdraw such goods from distillery warehouses for his own consumption is to be tested in the Supreme court.

The case decided then was that of William G. Street of New York, to whom lower courts had denied an injunction against officers that blocked the transfer of liquor from a rented room in the building of a safety deposit company to his home.

Booze Outlaws an Auto.

Seizure of automobiles or other conveyances in which liquors are transported illegally is authorized no matter if the owner of the conveyance has been found innocent of contravening the law, the supreme court held today in deciding a case from Georgia.

Justice McKenna, who read the opinion of the court, went back to the Mosale statutes for initial justification of the governments contention, quoting from the ancient tablets to the effect that "if an ox gove a man that he die, the ox shall be stoned and his flesh not eaten." From that day to the present, the court held, the instrument or facility used in violation of the law has been subject to condemnation.

OF HARDING PLAN

FOR WORLD PEACE

Call of Conference to Disarm, Form Tribunal.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—(Special.)—Important facts with regard to the disarmament movement were unfolded tonight at a conference for the purpose of ascertaining the reason why Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, was so suddenly called to England for conferences with President Lloyd George and Earl Curzon, secretary for foreign affairs. These conferences were held last night.

First—Ambassador Geddes was recalled by his government primarily for discussion of the question of disarmament.

Second—President Harding, immediately after his inauguration, will send the powers to send representatives to an international conference for discussion of the question of limitation of armaments.

For International Tribunal, Too.
Third—This conference under President Harding's call will not be limited to a discussion of whether limitation of armaments is possible, but will also consider the question of the establishment of an international tribunal for the judicial settlement of disputes between nations, with a view to the promotion of peace, so as to make limitation of heavy armaments possible.

Fourth—Mr. Harding is expected to bring his plan for such a conference forward in his inaugural address, and his special message to the special session of congress. He is expected to ask for the necessary appropriations for expenses to be incurred by his government in such a conference.

While various reasons have been assigned for the British government's summons of Ambassador Geddes, it has been generally assumed that the British debt to the United States was perhaps one of the main considerations. It was learned in a thoroughly informed quarter tonight that consideration of disarmament was the primary reason underlying Downing street's recall.

The British government wants Sir Auckland to participate personally in a confidential government conference on disarmament, and is anxious, more than anything else, to learn the status of the armaments limitation issue in the United States—to what extent, if at all, the United States government is willing to join in such a movement.

International agreement or other use—and whether it will be the purpose of this government to call an international conference for discussion of limitation of armaments, and what attitude of President Harding is likely to be.

To Be Harding's Peace Plan.
It is stated that Mr. Harding's plan for inviting the nations to an international conference to consider disarmament and a judicial tribunal was intended as a very important part of his contemplated efforts in favor of peace and a substitute for the league of nations project rejected by the Senate.

Influential members of the naval committee insist that if the nations of the world will not participate in such a conference it would be useless to consider limitation of armaments at this time. Mr. Harding, it is understood, and leaders in congress who stand ready to support his movement with the necessary appropriations, are proceeding on the assumption that the great powers of Europe will heed such a call.

COMMENT IN LONDON.
The Evening Standard's diplomatic correspondent writes: "I have learned that Sir Auckland Geddes will certainly bring with him Premier Lloyd George the British attitude toward disarmament, Anglo-American finance, and the reason of the league of nations."

Political circles believe that it is not unlikely that Geddes is bringing to England a provisional invitation for a discussion of the disarmament question at Washington and also certain official proposals regarding a conference to settle the Pacific questions.

Eugene Horton, Chicago
Soldier, Awarded D. S. C.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—(Special.)—Eugene Horton of 1539 Eates avenue, Chicago, private in Company E, 28th Infantry, has been awarded the Distinguished Service cross, by order of the president, for heroism in action in France.

The war department citation says: "For extraordinary heroism in action near Ville Savoye, France, Aug. 22, 1918. When his company was attacked by greatly superior numbers of the enemy, Private Horton continued to oppose his automatic rifle, although exposed to heavy enemy machine gun fire. His gallant conduct was a material factor in the successful repulse of the enemy, who were endeavoring to turn the flank of his organization."

Connolly of Waukegan. Connolly is taking a post-graduate course at Annapolis. Miss Jacobs is a member of Wellesley college.

SHIMMY? TODDLE? NO SUCH DOIN'S IN OUR SCHOOLS!

Trick Dances Close Community Center.

The shimmy and the tumultuous toddle were banished yesterday from Chicago public schools.

Official bars against such dances rattled down at the command of Supt. Peter A. Mortenson, who issued an edict closing the community center activities of Brentano school, 2723 North Fairfield avenue, until such time as the "social standards of school entertainments" can be guaranteed.

Board members and school officials who have been appealed to in the lively little battle over the advent of shimmy shakers in the auditorium declare disagreement concerning the moral standing of the wiggle dances has been rife in the school community for some weeks. It was brought to the attention of the board by Principal William R. Roberts of Brentano school, who recommended that the "dance hall atmosphere" be kept out of the schools at any cost.

Trouble Starts at Dance.
Board members say the recommendation was made after a community dance and entertainment at which the floor committee of teachers requested several young people to leave the floor if they could not refrain from being so modern. Other members of the community center, they declare, advised the shimmyists to go back and dance despite the order, and made it plain they did not consider the dance immoral.

The drastic official action yesterday backs up the principal and shows just where school authorities stand on the question of dance ethics.

"The community centers are doing a splendid work in Chicago," the superintendent said, "and I do not believe that the question of morality even appears in this case. The dances that resulted in today's order probably were considered all right on the stage or on public dance floors. In the schools, however, we maintain a high standard in all entertainments."

Not School Dances.
"The centers are essentially educational, although they are thrown open freely for clean, wholesome pleasure of every kind. We try to keep every activity of the centers on a plane so high that school children can engage in them. Naturally, we do not believe the shimmy and the toddle are proper dances for school entertainments."

Board members, investigating activities of Chicago community centers generally, have found that the work this year has been enlarged to meet practically every social need of the various neighborhoods.

Evidently Grammont, like the patrons at CHILDS, preferred a good dinner to pomp and ceremony.

TROOPS REPULSE ARMED ATTACK IN HEART OF CORK

North Dublin Still Held in British Cordon.

BULLETIN.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—(By Associated Press.)—Six men were arrested this morning in connection with the attempt to set on fire the premises of the Vacuum Oil company at Wandsworth last Saturday. The police allege that one of the prisoners is the virtual leader of the so-called Sinn Fein terrorist gang in London.

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—A pitched battle occurred in the heart of Cork early today when a large force of armed men attacked the Tuckey street police station.

Rifles, revolvers, and bombs were employed by the attackers, whose fire was answered from the upper windows of the besieged building. The attack was not dispelled until military reinforcements arrived on the scene and swept the street with a force machine gun fire.

More than half an hour after the attack began the attackers withdrew. Official reports make no mention of casualties.

Repulse Second Attack.
Later in the day an armed attack was made upon the police barracks at Mullinavat, but this was repulsed by the garrison.

The Dublin high court today adjourned its hearing under habeas corpus proceedings and made an order suspending the execution of Joseph Murphy until Jan. 26. Murphy was convicted of killing a soldier during an attack.

Patrick Mahon, a printer, was convicted by court martial today of having in his possession dies used in printing republican documents and was sentenced to five years' penal servitude.

Two caches of arms and ammunition were discovered yesterday in the Thurles and Fermoy districts. Bombs, gelignite, and Lewis machine gun parts were seized. At Thurles crown forces rounded up all the males, marched them into a field, and after searching them, warned them of the penalties under military law and then released them.

CALL OFF DUBLIN RAID.
[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]
[Copyright, 1921.]
DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—Dublin's record raid concluded suddenly this afternoon. With their barricades and barbed wire entanglements and reinforcements of tanks and armored cars, the troops were withdrawn at 2 o'clock and inhabitants within the area of half a mile west of Capel street, which has been subjected to search, were free to leave and enter the district.

Eight arrests were made, but the men have since been released. Search was conducted on exhaustive lines, and untenant buildings were forced. Persons in sections still receiving attention by morning were conducted on their shopping expeditions in the district by soldiers, a detachment of whom kept the whole area under observation from a church tower.

MALONE SENTENCE UPHOLD.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—The sentence of six months' imprisonment imposed last November upon Lieut. Col. L. E. Malone, Liberal member of the house of commons, after his conviction of alleged seditious utterances, was confirmed today by the court of appeals, the court dismissing Lieut. Col. Malone's appeal from the lower court.

SEARCHED BY POLICEWOMEN.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—Two uniformed London policewomen, says the Daily Mail, participated in a search for wanted men in Tournafulla, County Limerick, Sunday. Their duty was to search suspected women. Auxiliaries surrounded the Tournafulla church during mass and every man and woman was searched on leaving. Many torn letters were found in the church.

Kent Irish Ambush.
DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—A detachment of soldiers from the Essex regiment, says an announcement from general headquarters, today surprised a party of men preparing an ambush at Timoleague, County Cork. There was an exchange of shots and twenty-five civilians were captured. The troops suffered no casualties.

DIVORCED UNTIL—

She Seeks Alimony; Then Judge Cancels Her Decree.

Mrs. Victoria Raphael Schneider.

DIVORCEE ASKS SOME ALIMONY, LOSES DIVORCE

A ruling yesterday by Judge Harry A. Lewis of the Superior court has convinced Mrs. Victoria Raphael Schneider, daughter of Mrs. Sophia E. Delavan, former honorary president of the Women's Association of Commerce, that divorce decrees are anything but permanent.

Mrs. Schneider entered Judge Lewis' court the divorced wife of Henry J. Schneider. A decree had been granted her on Nov. 1. An hour later she left the court her legal wife.

The reason for the odd remarriage was discrepancy between testimony offered by Mrs. Schneider at the divorce hearing and facts sworn to by Schneider. It developed that Mrs. Schneider had hidden the fact that she had lived with her husband subsequent to the dates cited in her bill of complaint as the ones on which he inflicted cruel punishment upon her. The cruelty was thus condoned.

"Some one is not telling the truth in this case and I am going to find out who it is, and when I do he or she is going to be punished," Judge Lewis said. "In the meantime the decree will be set aside."

Mrs. Schneider precipitated the court's action by attempting to force her husband to pay $25 a week alimony.

She is now living with her mother at 4843 Kenmore avenue.

VIENNA IN GRIP OF PANIC AS COLLAPSE NEARS

VIENNA, Jan. 17.—[By the Associated Press.]—The threat of the working men to take things into their own hands Jan. 20 has created a decidedly panicky situation in Vienna, notwithstanding the reassuring tone of the newspapers. It is reported that there have been large withdrawals of money from the banks and a decided exodus of those classes of the population directly threatened has begun.

The conservative newspapers are filled with optimistic Paris dispatches regarding efforts in entente countries generally to secure financial relief for Austria. In the face of this, the crown has fallen a hundred points on the dollar exchange in the last five days.

The public is pinning its faith on the police for the maintenance of order. It is reported that associations of former officers and noncommissioned officers have been thoroughly organized as police auxiliaries in case of need. Inasmuch as these men number about 30,000, it is believed they will prove a determining factor against any really grave outbreak.

Ing to increase, the tension was the seizure today by the workmen's councils of 136 cannon and other military materials.

Ald. Cullerton's Stocks Found "Without Value"

Thousands of shares of mining stock purchased by the late Ald. Edward F. Cullerton are without market value, according to the inventory of his estate file in the Probate court yesterday.

Counting more than 25,000 shares in four companies owned by the alderman as worth par value, the estate, including an account in a savings bank, is estimated at $50,000. But the shares are declared worthless.

John J. Cullerton is administrator of the estate.

CHURCHILL QUILTS POST AS BRITISH MINISTER OF WAR

Remains in Cabinet as Colonial Secretary.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, Jan. 17.—It was officially announced here tonight that Winston Churchill, the British war minister, has accepted the post of colonial secretary. No reason was given for the change.

It also was learned that Lord Derby had been asked to succeed Mr. Churchill as war minister, but had refused the post.

A recent visit of Mr. Churchill to Paris caused much conjecture in the French capital, despite the fact the cabinet officer declared that his mission was entirely a personal one.

Just prior to the downfall of the Leygues cabinet in France much dissatisfaction was expressed over a rumor that Mr. Churchill would be a member of the British delegation at the forthcoming session of the supreme council.

In semi-official quarters in London tonight it was thought likely that Mr. Churchill's views regarding German disarmament and reparations, said to be not strictly in accord with those of Mr. Lloyd George, had a strong bearing on his retirement as war minister.

"VAMPIRE" AUTO KILLS MAN AND SPEEDS ON WAY

A "vampire" automobile, speeding north in Wells at Division street last night, struck and fatally injured an unidentified man about 50 years old and sped on without stopping.

Robert Tarrant, Henry R. Hazleton and W. A. Dudley witnessed the accident and, leaping from their auto, carried the victim to the Eagle drug store nearby. The police were called and took the man to Passavant hospital, but he was dead upon arrival there.

A number of cards were found in the man's pockets, but the police had not been able to establish identification last night. The witnesses made an attempt to follow the motorist, but he distanced them.

An unidentified woman about 60 years old was probably fatally injured last night when she was struck by a Clark street car at Sheffield avenue. A deposit book, showing deposits of $3,000, issued by the State Bank of Chicago, was found in her possession.

Joseph Scott, 61 years old, of 139 East Sixteenth street, was struck and probably fatally injured by an automobile owned and driven by Dr. George M. Segal of 5652 Indiana avenue.

U. S. NEED NOT FEAR SHADOWS OF RISING SUN

America Safe from Japs,
Admiral Scheer Says.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.]
WEIMAR, Jan. 17.—"I see no reason for America fearing a war with either Japan or England," said Admiral Scheer today in the third of a series of exclusive interviews, the first given out by the commander-in-chief of the German navy since the signing of peace between the allies and Germany. "In such wars the action would be wholly naval, as the American frontiers, Canadian and Mexican, are safe. Canada would not fight against the United States, and Mexico is powerless. Japan, landing an army on either Canadian or Mexican soil is impracticable, almost impossible."

Must Destroy U. S. Fleet.
"I say almost impossible, because landing means the complete destruction of the American fleet. I have shown at Skagerack that a fleet of double strength cannot enforce its will upon a weaker one, and two months later show the possibility of submarines offering a barrier to a fleet of capital ships. Throughout the war Germany proved that submarines and mine fields made the coast safe against landing of hostile armies. "Now consider an American-Japanese war and the complete defeat of the American fleet by the Japs. Japan wants the Philippines badly, and I do not think America ought to prize them too highly. America values them more than they are worth. This exaggerated value may lead America to compromise her honor in defense of those islands and go to war in their behalf."

Mistake Britain Made.
"I think Great Britain realizes its mistake in permitting Japan to occupy the former German islands which became a sort of bridge, inviting the Japs to place naval stations as sentinels around Australia. In other words, England has driven Australia into America's arms, because their interests in the Pacific are identical. "From a purely strategic point of view, leaving aside sentimental ideas, as they were left aside at Versailles, I would say America should have taken the German Marianna Islands as her spoils. If it really fears a Japanese war, it was foolish not to take naval stations. If it had taken them America would not be accused of militarism while Japan's naval activities would be confined to a small radius. However, England's action united America and Australia, which is probably best for both."

Couldn't Get Fuel.
"In war between America and Japan or England, aerial warfare must not be considered. It is a long distance between Japan and America. We'll say the warships and transports of Japan come the thousands of miles. They'll arrive off the Mexican coast with bunkers empty. Mexico cannot supply the needed coal or oil because it requires enormous labor facilities to coal ships. Finally the Japanese approach the American coast and a few submarines could sink the transports and prevent a landing. "But these conditions do not hold good for the Philippines." "I suggested, 'Yes and no,' replied the admiral. "In my opinion, a fleet of submarines, with some support from forts and warships to keep the submarine bases from destruction, will prevent the enemy from occupying the Philippines. Without submarines the Philippines will be an easy prey."

U. S. as Naval Base.
"Should America decide on a decisive battle on Japan soil or in Asiatic waters, it has a series of naval bases at Hawaii, Guam, and the Philippines, while Japan attacking America would not have any support. "At the conclusion of this interview, Admiral Scheer gave me the following naval aphorisms: "The strongest fleet has no opportunity for victory if it is forced by its adversary to stay in port through fear of submarines. "Nowadays the greatest naval fleet cannot guarantee the safety of its merchant fleet unless the enemy's submarine bases are destroyed. "A weak fleet is able to do much damage to its stronger enemy, thanks to submarines. "If the British didn't attack the North sea ports of Germany it was

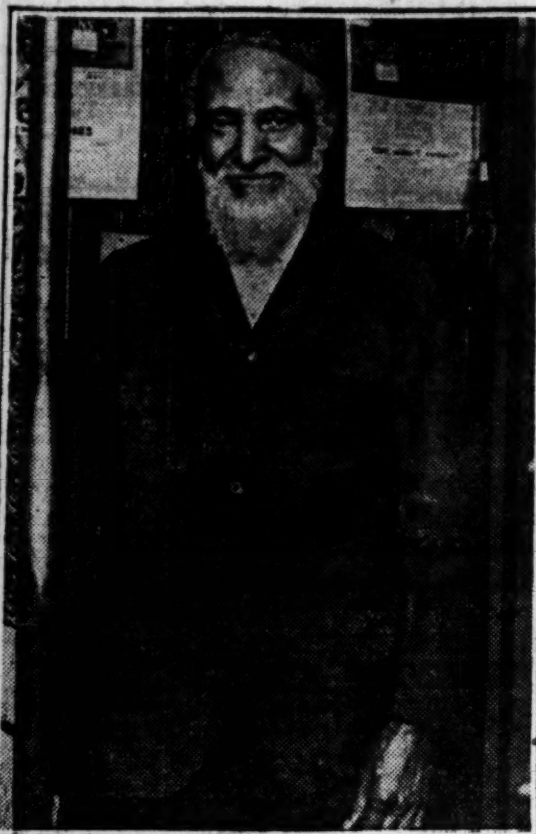

UP FROM SLAVERY

Fifty years ago Stephen Taylor, who had been a slave, moved into a back room on the top floor of the Gardner building at 170 West Randolph street with his wife and 3 year old son. He was to be the elevator man. There were only six elevator men in Chicago at that time.

Today Stephen is still at his post. He has lived in the building all these years, has raised his son, who is now 13 years old, has founded four Negro churches, and never has missed a day at work. He has seen his "front yard," Randolph street, grow from a dirt road into one of the main thoroughfares of a great city and has seen the skyscrapers spring up thickly around him.

"And Mr. Taylor will spend the rest of his days here," said E. J. Rogers, son-in-law of the late D. E. Gardner, owner of the building. "It would kill him to leave. I have always said that if the building burned he would burn with it."

Stephen, found at his post, came into the boss' office long enough to tell his story. "I got a job from Mr. Gardner," he explained, "when he put in the first elevator apparatus of the kind in the city. There were only six other elevators. Mr. Gardner told me I could have the back room on the top floor, and I moved in with my wife and son. My wife died some time ago, but my son, Fred, has grown up to be a great help to me. "The former slave said he received a "vision to preach" one night and, as a result, founded Negro Baptist churches at Evanston, Oak Park, Elgin, and Aurora. When he was more able to get about—he is 78 now—he preached in them. Mr. Rogers said he would provide for Stephen the remainder of his days. He has educated the son and promised to provide for him also.

GIRLS, ONE POSING AS HUSBAND, ARE PARTED BY LAW

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 17.—Mrs. Agnes Church, who, it is alleged, lived with Miss Dora Dunkelmann of Melvin, Ia., as her "husband" for three years, was indicted today by the county grand jury for conspiracy to corrupt the public morals and forgery of a marriage license.

Conviction of conspiracy carries a three years prison term and forgery ten years. N. D. Church, the alleged "male masquerader's" husband, was indicted on the same counts. Each was released on $4,000 bonds. Church is a mail sorter in the postoffice here. In the indictments it is charged the couple conspired to have Mrs. Church "marry" Miss Dunkelmann to obtain her property. Under the name of "Clifton Revere" it is charged Mrs. Church was "married" to Miss Dunkelmann. It is alleged they lived together as man and wife for nearly three years, Church meanwhile posing as a brother of his wife.

HIS SUAVE WAYS WIN WOMAN AND THEIR GEMS FLIT

"Gentleman" John Burke, believed by the police to have robbed several women of their diamonds after he had obtained their friendship through his suave manners, was arrested yesterday. He is charged with having in his possession three diamond rings, valued at $1,800, stolen last week from Mrs. Katherine A. Gibbons of Cleveland, O., a guest of Mrs. George McDaniels at 1341 North Dearborn street.

He was accused of the theft last week, but discharged for lack of evidence. He demanded an apology from the police and got it, but they showed him. They say he was trying to dispose of the rings when arrested.

Burke, who lived at the Victoria hotel, 334 South Clark street, met Mrs. Gibbons at a reception. Secrecy is maintained as to how he happened to be invited and where the reception was held.

Mrs. Gibbons accepted his invitation to go to a theater. After the first act, he excused himself and did not return until after the performance closed. When Mrs. Gibbons returned home she found her gems gone.

"I guess I figured the cops all wrong," Burke said from his cell.

ARGENTINE PRESS CRITICIZES U. S. TRADE POLICIES

BY J. W. WHITE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.]
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 17.—La Nacion, which was one of America's staunchest champions during the war, in a three column editorial, entitled "Pan-American Reflections," delivers a sharp lecture today to Washington. Severely criticizing American policies it says the failure of the United States to understand the South American republics comes through her failure to follow the example of Germany, Great Britain, and France in their commercial relations.

Warns Against Isolation.
"It is time," the editorial declares, "that American statesmen realize that American relations in the world depend upon their decision as to whether the United States shall behave like a nation resolved to maintain close relations with other nations, or isolate herself from the world in order to solve her own internal problems. In the latter event, she must not be surprised at the legitimate defensive reactions which this conduct will provoke from other nations."

The journal says it is too bad that Secretary of State Coby did not stay long enough to hear the hymns of praise sung to Europe in Argentina and to learn something about the acts and sentiments of Europeans which have given rise to the present cordial relations.

Criticizes Tariff Plans.
International brotherhood, the journal says, can be established only on a basis of honest exchange of service for service.

A half column is devoted to criticism of the proposed tariff changes and a column is taken up with condemnation of the United States' refusal to permit the landing of a cable serving South America.

LONDON, 150,000, AND ENGLAND, 1,000,000, SHORT OF HOUSES

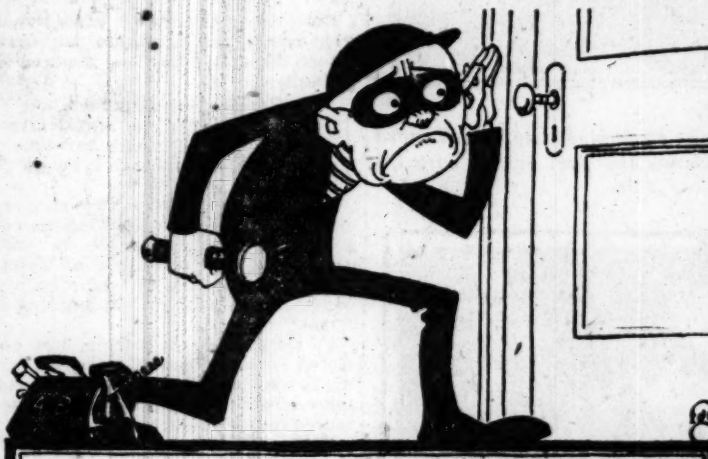

LONDON, Jan. 17.—[Correspondence.]
—It is estimated that London is short of 150,000 houses, and Premier Lloyd George, speaking in the house of commons, has placed the total house shortage for the whole of the United Kingdom at roughly 1,000,000.

A house for rent notice board in London quickly attracts a crowd. One striking effort to provide houses was conducted by the office of works, which was empowered to spend $6,000,000. Its operations started in Camberwell; the local federation of trades unions supplied the labor and the borough council the finances. The plan worked a total saving to taxpayers of £400,000. This scheme may become the embryo of a state building department.

In the north of England concrete houses have become popular.

Wilmette Women Dip Into Culture; Are Sued.

Short cuts to erudition have lost their charm for some of the club women of Wilmette.

Several months ago two of them started on enthusiastically on an abbreviated path to familiarity with the romantic literature of the world. But the first step proved to be a disappointment. They attempted to with- draw and landed in an Evanston justice court.

Their route was by way of books—twenty volumes all told—which were to give them in tabloid form all that was worth knowing about the classics of romance. But after the initial payments and the delivery of the books they decided they didn't want them. They stopped their payments.

"Boiled Down Classics." So next Saturday afternoon—the one having been continued from last Saturday—Mrs. Cornelius P. Van Schaack and Mrs. G. W. Bucholz are to appear before Justice Samuel Harrison with their attorney, who will attempt to show that they are not bound by the contracts they signed to continue making their payments.

According to their statements, the book agent told them that the books were full of abbreviated classics, prepared by the authors themselves, that they consisted of the boiled down, concentrated essence of everything that was worth while in romance literature.

"He said the padding would all be taken out," said Mrs. Van Schaack to a reporter.

"He said that the author's own words would be used," said Mrs. Bucholz, speaking for his wife.

"Shall Disclose Everything." "And we shall disclose everything in court next Saturday," said Victor M. Harding, attorney for the two women, who is said to be a cousin of President Elect Harding. "Until then, these women are not prominent clubwomen or anything of the sort. They are just women who were told the books were one thing and found they were another."

The books are published and sold by Edward T. Kelly & Co., 610 South Dearborn street. This is his side of it: "What they say is ridiculous. The salesman is an old employer and I know he didn't misrepresent the books. They are a standard set—a digest of standard authors. Would you expect a digest of Dickens by Dickens himself at this date? The digest of his works was written by Henry Fielding Dickens, his son. Some living authors, such as Irving Buchanan, wrote the digests of other books. But to expect the same thing from men who died years ago is a little too much."

Give Busy People a Chance. "The set was edited by Rossiter Johnson, who is—except possibly in Wilmette—too well known an editor and author to require any championship. The purpose of the books is to give busy people a chance to familiarize themselves with the romance literature of the world—tell them exactly what the books are—in other words, to give them a digest which they could read if they didn't have sufficient time to read the books themselves."

"A great deal is being said and written these days about the increasing number of cancellations of contracts. I'm not familiar with this case. It's in the hands of the collection department and we are proceeding just as any business house would under similar circumstances—attempting to collect on our contracts."

Second Wanderer Trial Will Start on March 1

The second trial of Carl Wanderer for murder yesterday was set for March 1, before Judge Joseph B. David. Assistant State's Attorney Lloyd Heth sought to have the case tried earlier, and before Judge George Kersten. Attorney W. D. Bartholomew, appointed to defend Wanderer, objected to the earlier date and refused to agree to Judge Kersten. The state will try to secure the death penalty for Wanderer on the charge of killing the boy whom he is said to have hired to stage a fake holdup, that it might appear Wanderer had killed a bandit who killed his wife.

Warns Public "Panicky" Buying Boosts Coal Cost

The public can hold coal at its present reduced prices by exercising care in buying, according to Ellory B. Gordon, secretary of the National Retail Coal Merchants' association. "There is no coal shortage, there never is," he told delegates at the Congress hotel yesterday. "The supply is always gauged by the way people buy. When they get panicky, there is a shortage. I believe the price of coal will go up during the summer. It is likely soft coal prices will remain at their present level."

MARRIED fifty-nine years ago yesterday in Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seegers informally celebrated the anniversary at their home, 414 Oakdale avenue. Mr. Seegers is president of the American Varnish company. He is 87 years old. Mrs. Seegers was 79 years old last New Year's day.

Mr. Seegers came to Chicago in 1855 from Hanover, Germany, where he was born. His wife was born in Chicago and is one of the city's oldest residents.

SOLON PREVENTS ILLINOIS GUARD KITCHEN REFUND

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—One man in the house today prevented passage of the bill authorizing the treasury to refund duties collected on army field kitchens imported from Canada during 1916.

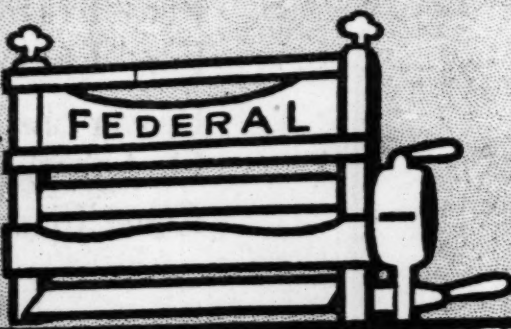

The bill came up on the unanimous consent calendar. It had been reported to the house months ago with a unanimous favorable report. Urgent business prevented it from being reached until today.

As soon as the title of the bill was read Representative Blanton, Texas, Democrat, refused consent to immediate consideration. Representative Britten, Illinois, author of the bill, and Glyn, Connecticut, in charge of it, sought ineffectually to get Blanton to withdraw his objection. The bill went over.

HARDING TALKS TO LOWDEN; BOTH SILENT ON TOPIC

President Elect Makes
Trip to Cleveland.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—Mexican affairs, political questions and cabinet problems were gone over this morning by Mr. Harding before his departure for Cleveland, where he attended to a few personal matters. He will return here early tomorrow morning.

Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City, former Republican state chairman for Missouri, whose name has been brought forward by his friends as a candidate for secretary of commerce or the interior, had a short talk with the president elect. Passing through Marion on his way east, Mr. Dickey arranged for a conference with Mr. Harding to give him an account of two interviews he had with President Oregon during his visit to Mexico City at the time of the new Mexican president's inauguration. Oregon represented himself to Mr. Dickey as desirous of immediate recognition by the United States.

Conference with Lowden. Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois had a short talk with the president elect. This was Mr. Lowden's first visit to Marion since he accompanied a delegation of governors here for a front porch speech during the campaign. The nature of the conference could not be learned from either Mr. Harding or Mr. Lowden, but it is known that the president elect is desirous of offering Mr. Lowden a federal appointment, and the general impression is that, with another Illinois man—Charles G. Dawes, said to be slated for the cabinet—Mr. Lowden will be offered an ambassadorship.

Special Session Date Undecided. Reports from Washington that Mr. Harding has decided to call a special session of congress on April 4 were denied this morning by the president elect. No date for the extra session has been fixed, Mr. Harding said, adding that this was a matter that would be determined only after conferences with congressional leaders.

When the president elect was in Washington six weeks ago, on his return from Panama, he expressed his intention of calling a special session for the consideration of tariff and tax legislation. Since that time he has said that congress would probably not be convened much before a month after inauguration; but, while no definite date has been decided, it is generally accepted here that congress will be called in the neighborhood of April 1.

Hays and Hillis Callers. Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, had a long conference with Mr. Harding that was continued on the train to Cleveland. On the train the president elect and Mr. Hays were joined by Charles D. Hillis of New York.

The Republican national chairman did not discuss the probability of his being selected postmaster general, but he denounced as made of whole cloth reports that he had "hastened" to Marion to patch up his political fancies.

Not Recognized in Cleveland. Cleveland, O., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—Traveling incognito, President Elect Harding slipped into Cleveland today on personal business and succeeded in making his way about the downtown section for several hours unrecognized by street crowds.

BRUNDAGE SUES TO OUST KING AS SANITARY CHIEF

Rival Claims Taken
Into Court.

In an effort to straighten out the tangle concerning the presidency of the sanitary district of Chicago Attorney General Brundage yesterday in- stituted quo war- ranto proceedings in the Superior court to oust

L. F. KING.

Lawrence F. King, the Thompson-Lundin claimant to the position. The information filed also asks that W. J. Healy, the anti-Thompson claimant, also be made respondent. Thus both contenders will be brought into court.

General Brundage is leader of the Republican faction which nominated and the provisions of the law concerning a vacancy in that position, and that the same law prescribes that he shall hold office until the post is filled by an election.

While the attorney general does not go any further into the subject, the advocates of the Healy cause contend that the casting of eight votes for Mr. King last November did not constitute an election and that there never has been a certificate of election issued to him.

King was seated in the president's chair by vote of the Thompson-Lundin trustees. Mr. Healy's original claim to the presidency has been upheld by the state supreme court, but is still pending there on a petition for a rehearing filed by Charles H. Sergel, elected president in 1916, whose contention is that he was elected for a term of six years.

At a meeting of the district's committee on federal relations in the office of Col. W. V. Judson, United States engineer, Attorney W. F. Mulvihill, representing the board, predicted that $100,000,000 will have to be spent during the next fifteen years in the establishment of sewage disposal stations to care for Chicago's needs.

The question of the amount of water permitted to be taken from Lake Michigan was discussed. United States District Attorney Clyne said that the only method of obtaining authority for a flow in excess of the present allowance of 250,000 cubic feet a minute would be through congressional action.

TROOPS LYNCHED WHITE MAN, TWO WITNESSES SAY

11 Alabama Militiamen in Jail as Murderers.

Jasper, Ala., Jan. 17.—[Testimony was presented to a grand jury today by persons living along the road traversed last Thursday by the group of masked men who entered the jail here, obtained William Baird, a miner, and later lynched him.

Special Assistant Attorney General Wilkinson, it was learned tonight, plans to present to the grand jury tomorrow a written statement by Clyde Springer, a national guardsman, and Leslie West, a chauffeur, who, according to the authorities, furnished the automobiles used by the mob.

These statements are said by the authorities to have led to the arrest of eleven members of Company M of the Alabama national guard, charged with implication in the lynching.

Arrest Follows Confession. The men, five noncommissioned officers and six privates, were arrested last night after West is said to have made a complete confession of the part he took and named the soldiers. Announcement of the confession was made by Judge Horace C. Wilkinson, special assistant attorney general named by Gov. Kilby to investigate the lynching. Baird was in jail at Jasper awaiting trial for the killing of Private James Morris of Company M, after Morris had shot and killed John Northcutt, Baird's father-in-law.

Northcutt had been arrested by Morris on a charge of disorderly conduct while the company was stationed in Jasper in connection with the miners' strike.

Burned Their Disguises. According to Judge Wilkinson, West declared the soldiers wore civilian clothes, including overalls, and these were burned after they returned to Townley, where they were encamped. The trip was made in two automobiles. The party went to the jail shortly for midnight, overcame the jailer, and bundled Baird into one of the machines after putting a towel around his neck.

About two miles outside of Jasper, the confession continued, Baird was shoved from the automobile and shot to death. The soldiers then sped back to camp, arriving just in time to be checked up.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—Payment of the Ford Motor company bonus for 1920, amounting to about $8,000,000, began at 10 o'clock this morning, but long before that hour a line of employees which extended four blocks had gathered. Each man drew between $100 and $125 in cash. It will take about five weeks, paying 2,000 men daily, to complete the distribution.

POLICE HERE NAB RAFFLES OF MR. HARDING'S TOWN

"Marion Eddie," Cracksmen, Is Caught.

BY JOHN KELLEY

The folks down in President Elect Harding's home town will be interested to learn that "Marion Eddie" is in again. He is at South Clark street station, awaiting the arrival of the sheriff of Randolph county, Ind., who wants him for robbery of the Ridgville bank. The sheriff is a cracksmen.

Picked Up at Hospital. He was driving in a taxi to St. Luke's hospital early Friday morning. Detective Serg. Bernatelli and James Coleman saw the vehicle stop in front of the hospital. The chauffeur assisted the occupant out of the cab and into the institution. The detective quoted the number of the license tag. Inquiry at the hospital elicited the information that the patient was a "Mr. Morrison." The detective was suspicious, and telephoned Lieut. James McMahon, who detailed a policeman to watch him.

The taxi chauffeur was found and he said he found "Mr. Morrison" at Twelfth street and Blue Island avenue at 4 o'clock in the morning. After Dr. Albert E. Halsted, staff surgeon, had set the broken shoulder, the police were allowed to question the patient. He showed no disposition to get chummy.

Capt. Evans Greets Him. Yesterday Lieut. McMahon had "Mr. Morrison" brought to the South Clark street station. There he was introduced to Capt. Michael P. Evans of the identification bureau.

"How do do, Eddie," said Evans. "How's all the folks down in Marion?" In the record book Eddie fits a long chapter devoted to his exploits, beginning in 1902, when he was sentenced to five years in the Ohio state penitentiary. He also served four years for robbery of a bank at Bainbridge, O., and ten years for another bank job at Matamoras, Fulton county.

Kelley also is known as John Graham, William Simpson, and Joseph Murphy. Lieut. McMahon says he is one of four handits who last October robbed a bank at Bedford, Ind., of $58,000. One of the robbers, Whitney Johnson, was killed by the posse of citizens.

The Ridgville bank robbery was an unusually bold stickup. Kelley, the police say, was leader of the band of five men. After his identity was established Lieut. McMahon jokingly asked Kelley if he knew President Elect Harding. "Quit your kidding," said "Marion Eddie." "I may have seen the gent when I was a kid, but I can't say. I ain't been in Marion for over thirty years. It's a nice little town, but you can have it."

Continued Improvement in Cardinal Gibbons' Health. Baltimore, Md., Jan. 17.—Continued improvement in Cardinal Gibbons' condition was reported this morning by a member of his household.

THE SKY-HOOTER

1—The fastest moving object ever seen by man has just been discovered by V. M. Slipher at Flagstaff, Ariz. It is the nebula known as Dreyer 584. It lies in the constellation of Cetus and sets late in the evening at this time of year. It is so very faint that it cannot be seen without a telescope, but it is receding from the earth at the terrific rate of 2,000 kilometers, or 1,200 miles, a second. The sun, by way of comparison, goes twelve miles a second.

NEBULA ON WILD SPEED RAMPAGE, SKY PEEPER SAYS

Dreyer No. 584 Makes Celestial Record.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 17.—The Nebula Dreyer No. 584 in the constellation of Cetus has broken all known speed records of the heavens. It is dashing through space away from the earth at a velocity of almost 2,000 kilometers a second, the highest speed ever attained by a celestial object.

This was the word received at the Harvard college observatory today from Dr. V. M. Slipher of the Lowell observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz., in announcing the result of spectrographic observations there.

Makes Other Sprinters Seem Slow. With this velocity Dreyer No. 584 is showing its starry heels to the rest of the universe at a rate of speed almost twice as fast as the highest velocity previously known.

Prof. Solon I. Bailey of the Harvard observatory said most stars move through the heavens at less than 100 kilometers a second. Runaway stars have been known to gain a momentum of a few hundred kilometers a second, and other objects have been found to go as fast as 1,000 kilometers a second.

Flashes Across Southern Sky. The highest celestial speed previously recorded was by another nebula, and was 1,180 kilometers a second, the Harvard scientist said. Sun, star, or nebula has never closely approached the speed of Dreyer No. 584, in his opinion.

The nebula, which is so faint that it is not visible to the eye, flashes across the lower southern sky in the early evening.

Author, in Jail, Awaits Trial in Franzen Case

Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—Pierre P. Franzen, who two weeks ago eloped with the wife of Philip Franzen of Madison, was arraigned in the Superior court here this morning on the charge of grand larceny. He pleaded not guilty. Franzen was not able to furnish $1,000 bail and went back to jail. The charge of grand larceny was preferred by Franzen on account of an alleged theft by Author of $110, on the night he took Mrs. Franzen from her home.

$1,000,000 SHRINE HOSPITAL SOUGHT BY MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis wants the $1,000,000 hospital for crippled children, funds for which have already been collected by the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Members of Zarah temple of Minneapolis appeared yesterday before the hospital committee, which is in session at the Hotel La Salle.

They stated that if the hospital is established in Minneapolis it will be under the direct supervision of the Mayo brothers. Dr. Charles H. Mayo was one of the speakers.

The $1,000,000 for the proposed hospital was raised by contributions and by assessing each of the 400,000 members of the order $2 each. The purpose is to provide either one great hospital or to endow several hospitals to care for crippled children, regardless of religion, race, or color.

Either Des Moines, Ia., or Savannah, Ga., will get the forty-seventh session of the Imperial council of the Shrine, according to a decision made by the hotel committee yesterday.

LANDLORD PASSES HAT TO PAY RENTAL POOR WOMAN OWES

New York, Jan. 17.—A story of destitution told in Bronx court today by the mother of eight children "softened the heart" of a New York landlord. Mrs. John Justus, defendant in one of 250 landlord-tenant cases on the District Municipal court docket, was asked why she had not paid her rent for two months.

"My husband is crippled and unable to work much. His pay recently was cut 10 per cent. It takes everything we can scrape together to care for the children. I just cannot pay."

Morris Polsky, her landlord, interrupted. He requested the court's permission to take up a collection. The court answered by dropping $5 into Polsky's hat. Other landlords were generous.

Mrs. Justus' rent is now paid a month in advance.

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

Testifies as 15 Judges
Speed Up Court Work.

Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, was before the Cook county grand jury for nearly three hours yesterday. The state's attorney and the clerk of the Criminal court were both excluded while Mr. Chamberlin was interrogated.

Members of the grand jury and Mr. Chamberlin refused to discuss matters he touched upon. There is reason to believe, however, that conditions revealed in the report of the commission covering criminal activities in the county for the last two years were considered.

Whether the grand jury will attempt to fix responsibility for the failure of officials to enforce the law until the present cooperative drive against crime was begun will not be known until it completes its report.

Greatest Day in Court's History.
Never before in the history of Chicago was there as great activity as was displayed in the Criminal courts, eight auxiliary judges whose assignment made a total of fifteen jurists hearing criminal cases. Cases begun before the present Criminal court building and the county building were resumed. It was general cleanup day.

A surprisingly large proportion of the 2,200 talesmen summoned for jury service appeared. It was estimated that fewer than 10 per cent were excused. Judges John M. O'Connor, Thomas Taylor Jr., Albert C. Barnes, Martin M. Gridley, William E. Dever, Charles M. Thomson, and Jesse Holman examined them.

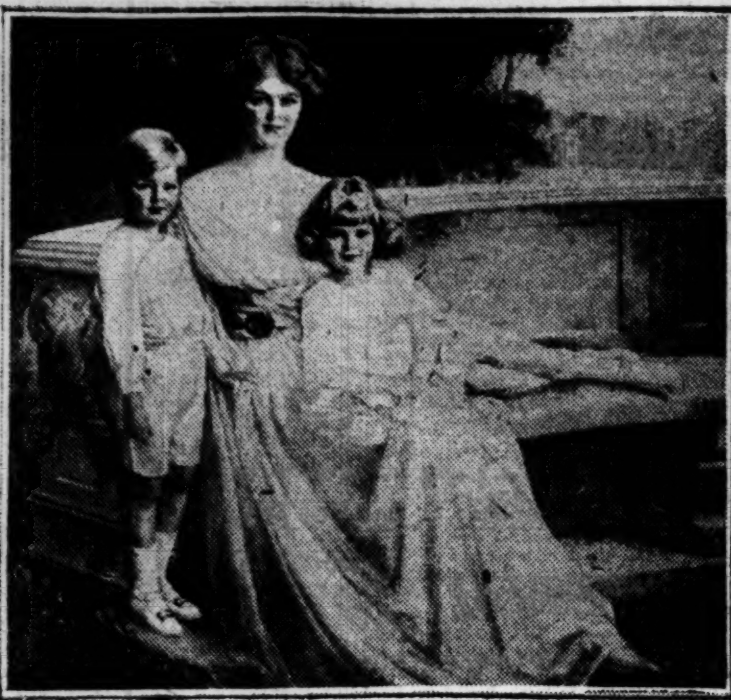

Chief Justice Charles A. McDonald in the Criminal court building heard change of venue motions and prepared to clear his own calendar, preparatory to taking over the new Automobile court, in which all crimes growing out of the theft or use of motor cars are to be prosecuted by Special Prosecutor Stephen A. Malato.

Judge Frank Johnston Jr., George Kersten, Frank S. Wilson, John J. Sullivan, Hugo M. Friend, and Joseph B. David handled the first cases up. Judge David was named as a substitute for Judge Hugo Farn during the next three months.

Some Cases Heard.
Clifford Lane and Clyde Mackin, charged with robbery with a revolver, pleaded guilty and were sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years to life by Judge Friend. Tony Ljubicic, a third defendant, went to trial.

Judge Sullivan heard the case of Attorney Seymour Cohen, charged with mishandling his wife's money. The jury decided she had given him power of attorney.

LADY CYNTHIA PATRICK RAMSAY

Portrait of "Princess Pat's" sister-in-law, by Seymour Stone, now on exhibition here.

Seymour M. Stone twenty years ago was a pupil at the Art Institute art school, and later studied under Anders Zorn, the famous artist, who died recently. Mr. Stone is now exhibiting in the Fine Arts building four portraits, which will be on view later in the galleries of the Art Institute. They are portraits of Mrs. Col. Charles Patterson of Washington, Secretary of War Baker, Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, and Lady Cynthia Patrick Ramsay, sister-in-law of "Princess Pat," with her two children.

Mr. Stone expects to go to Washington soon to paint President Harding, Mrs. Harding, Mr. Wilson, and other persons of note.

STEPINA TELLS HOW HE ESCAPED FROM HOSPITAL

Carl Stepina, under heavy guard at the Fillmore street station, yesterday told the story of his six weeks flight from the police which began when he escaped from the county hospital and ended with his capture in a rooming house Sunday night.

Stepina was shot in the arm and his companion John Bumbaugh, was killed Nov. 19 when they tried to overpower Sgt. H. C. Odell, in first Deputy Chief of Police Akooch's automobile.

"On the night of the escape, which I had been planning for some time," Stepina said, "the copper on guard went to sleep. I hopped out of bed and got into the washroom. Then I dropped out of the window fifteen feet to the ground. I went to the basement of a house and got a hat and pants."

"For a week I lived with my sister, Mrs. Arthur Henpe, at 1424 North Marshfield avenue, but her husband made me get out."

He then went to Louisville, Ky., he said, but thought he could more easily hide in a large city and returned to Chicago, where he moved from one rooming house to another.

The police called in a score of the victims of recent holdups to attempt to identify Stepina yesterday.

11 YEAR OLD BOY IDENTIFIES 2 AS GROCER SLAYERS

Eleven year old Russell Carraway yesterday identified Ernest Reed and George Woods, colored, 2222 South State street, as the robbers who last Friday night murdered Hyman Rotstein in his grocery store at 2816 South State street. They obtained $13, Russell made the identification at the Cottage Grove avenue station, where a number of suspects had been rounded up by the police. He pointed them out without hesitation.

"There's one," he said, indicating Reed, "and there's the other," indicating Woods.

Both men refused to talk. Russell was playing in front of his home, 2817 South State street, when he heard the shot that killed Rotstein and saw the two men running. They passed him.

Dore Smith, Rotstein's 13 year old assistant, was in a rear room of the grocery when the murder occurred. Through a glass door he saw the murderers rifle the cash register and depart. He will be summoned to the station today to view Reed and Woods. They were arrested by Detective Sergeants Scott and Middleton.

CENTRAL POLICE STATION OFFERS CITY BIG PROFITS

Chief and Finance Expert
Show $341,000 Saving.

Construction of a central police station, as advocated by Chief Fitzmorris, would result in a cash saving of $141,000, according to Maj. James Miles, head of the council finance committee's staff, which investigated the idea.

In addition to the cash saving in rent and operation of rented public buildings, 100 policemen would be released for patrol duty, according to the chief, giving the city $300,000 worth of additional patrol service annually.

Located Near Loop.
Under the chief's plans the building would be just west of the loop and would house the central police organization, the detectives bureau, the police now assigned to the Desplaines and Harrison street stations, the three detention homes and the Boys' Speeders', Morals and Domestic Relations courts.

"The invaluable records of the identification section are now housed on the top floor of the Harrison street station which is little less than a fire trap," says the staff's report.

Would Eliminate Big Rentals.
The rent and operation costs of buildings leased for police purposes in the loop district amounts to $81,340 annually. Space in the City Hall Square and other buildings costs the city $10,000 yearly. Removal of the four courts to the new buildings would give city hall space to these activities, the report suggests.

The money saving, the increasing in police efficiency and service and the removal of the necessity for herding criminals through city hall corridors are the three principal arguments advanced for the construction of the proposed building.

$3,921,000 FOR WATER.
A program of extension and repairs to the city water system, which would cost $3,921,000 in one year, was laid before the city council finance committee yesterday by City Engineer P. S. Combs.

One of the biggest items in the program is the request for an appropriation of $500,000 to begin construction of the William Hale Thompson pumping station to be built somewhere on the near southwest side. The exact site has not yet been chosen.

Mr. Combs also asked for many changes of title for employees in the water pipe extension department. So many titles are confusing and useless," he said. "Not long ago I came upon a gang of six men repairing a leak. The hole in the ground was three feet square and one man was working while the others sat around and watched him."

THE BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It Payable to the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

Next Wednesday, Jan. 26, will be "Hoover Relief Fund" day in every motion picture theater in the country. An entertaining tabloid feature, 150 feet in length, called "The Invisible Guest," will be shown, following pictures of the underfed, anemic children of central and eastern Europe being fed a meal a day at the Hoover kitchens. These pictures will remind us all of our privilege and obligation to take care of the millions of starving little victims of the war. Four minute speakers will supplement the pictures with their appeal to American generosity.

The following statement, signed by various "movie" managers in Illinois, has been sent to every motion picture manager in the state:

"We, the undersigned special committee of the motion picture division of the European Relief council, in the state of Illinois, earnestly advocate that every motion picture theater in the state render every courtesy and assistance possible to the representatives of the organization allied with the humane, timely, and urgent charity to the starving children of Europe on Jan. 26, and that cheerful permission be granted to all qualified representatives to use the motion picture theaters of the state of Illinois for the purpose of a four minute speech on the above subject and to allow them to accept offerings in the name of the suffering children of devastated Europe."

Miss Jean Butter, a near east relief worker, who returned from Constantinople last week, will speak at the First Methodist church in Evanston tomorrow afternoon in the interests of the American fund for the relief of starving Armenian and Syrian children.

Rice in China costs about 3 cents a pound, and one pound will make three bowls or one day's famine ration for the Chinese. That means that $1 will provide life sustenance for one Chinese for one month and a $5 bill will keep a whole family alive for a month. Fifteen million Chinese are facing death from starvation.

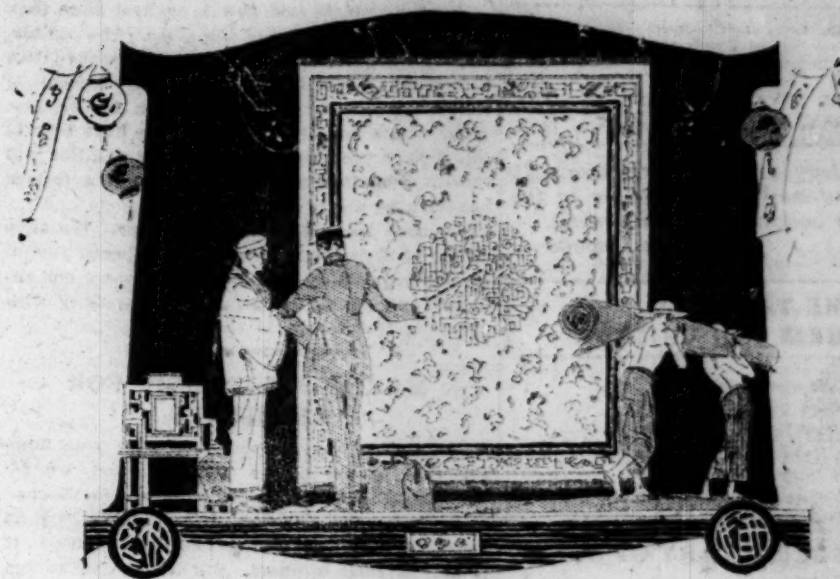

HOSPITAL STAFF MEETS TONIGHT TO REORGANIZE

The meeting tonight will be to consider plans for reorganization.

Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the board of trustees, will be one of the speakers.

OWNERS AND MEN CO-OPERATING TO REVIVE BUSINESS

Wage Cuts and Increased Hours Hint Normalcy.

Pawtucket, R. I., Jan. 17.—An extension of time schedules, announced as reflecting improvement in business, was reported in several textile mills today.

The Jenks Spinning company, employing 2,500, after closing last week, resumed operation with several departments on a four and five day schedule. The Lorraine Manufacturing company, employing 2,000, changed from three days a week to a five day schedule.

The Weybosset company, employing 1,000, began a five and a half day schedule, after operating some departments three and others four days a week.

Corset Company Cuts Pay.
Worcester, Mass., Jan. 17.—The Royal Worcester Corset company today announced a reduction of 15 per cent in the pay of its 1,200 employees, 10 per cent effective at once and 5 per cent July 5. Prices to the trade have been cut.

The Whittall carpet mills were closed today by the strike of 300 weavers in protest against a cut of 25 per cent in wages.

Weekly Schedule Reduced.
Woonsocket, R. I., Jan. 17.—The Alice mill, footwear division of the United States Rubber company, will go on a thirty-four and one-quarter hour a week schedule for an indefinite period, instead of about forty-eight hours, as at present, it was announced today.

City Plant Tied Up.
Boston, Mass., Jan. 17.—The municipal printing plant stopped work today because of labor troubles. Sup't. Lawler said a strike was in effect. Union officials asserted it was a lockout. Their members had withdrawn from the plant, they said, because of its refusal to pay the prevailing wage scale automatically constituted a lockout. About 100 persons are involved.

The controversy has to do with a wage increase of $4 a week paid by private plants since October. Demands that the municipal plant pay a similar scale were refused.

Silk Mills Slash Pay.
Holyoke, Mass., Jan. 17.—Wage cuts ranging from 12 1/2 to 15 per cent were announced today by William Skinner & Sons, operating silk mills, here today. The mills employ about 2,200 hands. Beginning today, the plant will be operated three and a half days a week, instead of three days.

Strike in Shoe Plant.
Manchester, N. H., Jan. 17.—The strike declared by the local branch of the United Shoe workers Saturday against the W. H. McElwain shoe company's announcement of a revision of its wage scale went into effect today. Company officials indicated that they did not expect the strike would interfere with operations.

Although the McElwain factories here employed nearly 5,000 in busy times, production has been greatly curtailed. The company has two factories in Nashua, where the wage reduction also is effective. The Nashua factories have been closed for two weeks.

Monon Decreases Crows.
Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 17.—The working force of the Monon Railway shops here will be reduced 50 per cent at the end of the present week, it was announced today. The shops employ 750 persons. The employees recently refused a proposed curtailment of working hours.

Steel Mills Reopen.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 17.—Twenty mills, half of the productive capacity of the McKeesport Tin Plate company, resumed operations today after being idle since Dec. 23. Sixteen hundred men were affected by the resumption which was at the old wage rate.

Labor to Get Less.
Reading, Pa., Jan. 17.—Wage cuts went into effect today at the Reading plant of the Bethlehem Steel company. Labor rates were reduced from 44 to 32 cents an hour. Some reduction was as much as 50 per cent. The rolling mill has been closed indefinitely.

Down on Dancers

Chicagoan in Paris, Former Dancing Partner of Lake Forest Girl, Is Latest Victim of Police Dog Owned by Richard Canfield, Fil.

MISS GERTRUDE DOLAN.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Jan. 17.—Nero, a German police dog owned by Richard Canfield, son of the noted gambler, seems to have declared open season upon male professional dancers.

Recently Nero clamped his jaws on the nimble foot of Leo Delys. The owner, however, declared that Delys had set Nero a bad example by biting the dog's ear.

Nero bit a new chapter into the adventures of Richard Wheeler of Chicago today. It was Wheeler who recently completed a tour of Europe with Miss Gertrude Dolan, of Lake Forest, as his charming dancing partner.

Wheeler is in the American hospital here with a torn lower lip, but he keeps a stiff upper and refuses to take the Pasteur treatment, despite the advice of attending surgeons.

One of the most thrilling chapters in Wheeler's career was told by Miss Dolan last July while resting after her European tour.

She declared that Wheeler, jealous of attention paid her by a British officer, bested the latter in a fist duel, but was arrested and sentenced to prison. Here entered another actor, "Victor Vickers," a Persian prince worth $40,000,000. It was he who secured Wheeler's release—but Miss Dolan fled to her Lake Forest home.

COST OF LIVING IS DOWN 9.9% FOR CHICAGOANS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—Changes in the cost of living for an average family, according to the bureau of labor statistics, today show a decrease of 9.9 per cent for Chicago from June, 1920, to December, 1920.

The peak of the cost of food, clothing, fuel, light, furniture, and furnishings in Chicago was reached in June, 1920. Then the general increase since December, 1919, had reached 114.6 per cent. In December, 1920, the increased cost since 1915 was 93.3 per cent.

The detailed figures for Chicago follow:

	Dec. 1914	Dec. 1915	Dec. 1916	Dec. 1917	Dec. 1918	Dec. 1919	Dec. 1920

City Again Bars Film That "Glorifies Crime"

City moving picture censors refused for the second time yesterday a permit for the showing in Chicago of "The Lady in the Dugout," a screen play, in which Al Jennings, once a famous outlaw, is the chief figure. Chief Censor Willis declared the picture "glorifies crime," and that it therefore cannot be shown under Chief Fitzmorris' rule against crime pictures.

TOILERS PROTEST INLAND STEEL'S SLASH IN WAGES

Contend Cut Is More than They Agreed to Accept.

The Inland Steel company put a wage reduction of 17 per cent and upwards into effect yesterday at its plant at Indiana Harbor. Officials of the company say the cut leaves wages where they stood in August, 1918. For weeks the plant has been operating at less than one-third capacity, due to lack of orders, and at present less than 500 men are employed.

Some 400 of the unemployed workers met at Indiana Harbor during the day to discuss the reduction. They had agreed to take a 20 per cent chop, but declared that the cut announced for the steel mill would amount to 29 per cent. At the meeting it was said Superintendent C. A. Potts had announced six blast furnaces would be reopened if costs could be curtailed a certain percentage, which would enable the company, as independent, to get on a real competitive basis. But the men sent word they would not agree to a wage curtailment of more than 20 per cent.

"There's no trouble," said P. D. Block, head of the company, "except the lack of orders. We're running only in three departments. Since 1914 nine wage increases were made, averaging about 10 per cent each. The reduction removed two of these and put wages back where they were in August, 1918."

Other independents in the Calumet-Indiana district are reducing—it follows the trend shown by some independent mills in the Ohio and Pennsylvania fields. Most of them are running with forces greatly curtailed and no orders piled up.

No Reduction in Other Plants.

The plants of the United States Steel corporation in the district have made no reductions. Officials of the Illinois Steel company at South Chicago, which is operating at about 30 per cent capacity, said they have made no cuts and contemplate none. The same applies to the Gary plant.

The Pullman company's operating department—the car repair shops—went to a nine hour a day basis. According to the company, the actual increase amounts to only two hours a week. The repair shops have had a 48-hour week; now they go to a 50-hour week, Saturday afternoon being "off." It was stated that the nine hour day has been the vogue in the rest of the Pullman works for a considerable time. In going to a fifty hour week in the repair shops, the possible point of controversy lies in the fact that straight rates are to be paid for the two new hours, instead of overtime rates, this being one point on which the men are seeking a ruling in their case before the railway labor board.

RETAIL DEALERS WANT LUMBER ON FREE LIST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—Retail lumber dealers urged the house ways and means committee today to allow lumber to continue to come in from Canada free of duty. They declared a duty such as is sought by some American manufacturers would further increase building costs and retard housing activities.

A. M. Melone of Minneapolis, chairman of a committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers' association, was supported in this contention by E. B. Hill, a retail lumber dealer of Pittsburgh, and George N. Comfort, retail and wholesale dealer of Cleveland.

"Consumers have been paying prices which put lumber beyond the reach of the ordinary home builder," said Mr. Melone. "Prices charged by manufacturers of lumber the last two years have been exorbitant and out of proportion to their increases in either cost or demand."

LARGER SERVICE IS IDEAL OF N. U., PRESIDENT SAYS

Cites Medill School of Journalism as Example.

To serve the PRESENT AGE.
My calling to fulfill;
O, may it all my powers engage,
To do my Master's will!

BY EYE WITNESS.
After they had sung that stanza, and the others, of gentle Charles Wesley's hymn, and after they had prayed—then rose Walter Dill Scott and gave the Methodist Ministers' association the first statement of work done and work proposed that he has made since he became president of Northwestern university.

He told the clergymen assembled at the First Methodist church yesterday noon that before he decided to take up the duties of the presidency he gave five days of thought to the problems and the opportunities of Northwestern.

Thereupon he won the first smile from his audience.

"Brethren," he said, "I thought on these problems five days and the better part of five nights, and in that time I lost three pounds. And if anybody can think of anything worse than that for a man of my build I don't want to know about it."

Then, in the terms of the old hymn with its line, "To serve the present age," in the terms of the nine acres of land at Chicago avenue and the lake shore which are to be the site of new buildings for the departments of law, journalism, commerce, medicine, and dentistry, and in the terms of the new Medill School of Journalism, preparations for registration (not actual registration) which began at the Chicago headquarters of the university yesterday morning, President Scott made his statement to the fathers. At the end of it they gave him the hand of fellowship as "Brother Scott" and made him an honorary member of the Methodist Ministers' association.

Building for Posterity.
As to working in the immediate future, the most important part of President Scott's statement was his announcement that as soon as the industrial situation has cleared work will begin on the buildings which are to occupy the university's million and a half dollar tract at Chicago avenue and the lake shore. It may be a matter of months only before the first stone is laid.

"Some earnest well-wishers of Northwestern feel," said the president, "that the erection of these buildings is not an urgent item in the greater Northwestern's program. I reply that such was not the nature of the vision of the fathers who seventy years ago founded this university. They could have bought land and built buildings on a limited scale and that scale would have met the immediate requirements of the school. They did not so buy and build. They bought and built for posterity and for so doing they did not escape criticism. But time has justified their vision. So will it justify us, and it will justify us for the reason that Chicago is destined to become the educational center of the United States. Nor is that time remote, for today three of the twenty-four great universities of this country are situated in the state of Illinois and all three are housed either in whole or in part in Chicago."

What Is a University?
"What is a university?"
"Is it an institution of propaganda?"
"Is it a place for the development of a winning football team?"
"Is it a place of sojourn for the search for a husband?"
"Is it a place for the discipline of youth?"
"Is it a place for the propagation of the faith?"
"A university can be all of those things, and still fall of realizing the true ideal of a modern university. The foundation upon which Northwestern rests is service. Service, enlarged service, service at once more comprehensive and more specialized, must be the rock on which we shall continue to build."

It is service in the overcoming of

PLAYMATE OF FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TO WED GIRL FROM AUSTIN

Lucille Harriet Lamson of 28 South Mayfield avenue, Austin, watched with interest the coming of the Hathaway family from Kentucky into her own neighborhood fifteen years ago, when she was at the doll and story book age. She was gratified when she found there was a "nice little boy" to play with and soon learned that his name was Sherman. They became playmates and LUCILLE H. LAMSON then Sherman's (Mabel Spikes Photo.) parents moved to Oak Park. The acquaintance was kept alive, however, and neither lost sight of the other during the high school graduation of Miss Lamson in Austin or Mr. Hathaway's war service overseas in the 332d field artillery, where he became a sergeant major, and now they're engaged. Miss Lamson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lamson and Mr. Hathaway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hathaway of 412 Marion street, Oak Park. No date is set for the wedding.

poverty, disease, and sin. The giving of alms is the least effective of all forms of charity. What we need is to train people in the ways to overcome poverty.

"As to the suffering created by disease, the need of relieving such suffering is not to be compared to the need of education in the ways to avoid and to eliminate disease. To teach the latter is one of the functions of a university that is founded on the ideal of the larger service."

"And, as to sin, the greatest need in the world today is not more churches, but more trained leaders."

"The larger service! There are in Chicago thousands of young men wishing to serve their fellow men. They seek only the agency, the instrumentality. Such an agency Northwestern can be—has been, indeed.

Cites the Medill School.

"Three months ago two young men of Chicago desired to do three things, and they turned to Northwestern. First, they desired to found a worthy memorial to a worthy ancestor; second, they desired to advance the usefulness and dignity of their own profession; third, they desired to do something for—to fulfill an ideal of service to—young men and women just entering or wishing to enter their profession."

"Northwestern university provided those two young men with an opportunity to render service along the lines of the ideal which lay close to their hearts, and this morning at 9 o'clock preparations for registration began in the Joseph Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern university."

"That, brethren, is one form of service—the great service of instrumentality and agency on behalf of men who dream great dreams and are ready to teach their dreams—that our university stands ready to perform and is performing."

"And because it is ready and eager is why it is doing its share in clearing the world of education of the odor of decaying practices and methods which have long since ceased to have any significance, but have not been buried."

Then the president said again to the persons acclaimed him "brother."

URGING DIVORCE

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 17.—Mrs. Sadie A. Cleveland, wife of John M. Cleveland, head of the Pere Marquette line of steamers, has disappeared, it was reported today. The last word from her was from Chicago, Jan. 8.

Her husband said she left Dec. 9 to visit relatives in the east. A letter from Mrs. Cleveland in Chicago said she would not return home, Mr. Cleveland said, and the letter advised the husband to get a divorce on ground of desertion.

GOMPERS AGAIN PAN-AMERICAN LABOR LEADER

City of Mexico, Jan. 17.—Samuel Gompers today was re-elected president of the Pan-American Federation of Labor. His election followed a three-hour debate in which there was a split among the delegations, the Mexicans, Salvadoreans, and Guatemalans voting against the unanimous acceptance of the resolution nominating Mr. Gompers.

The solid American, Santo Domingo, and Porto Rico ballots swung the others into line when it appeared Mr. Gompers would be voted down. A difference arising at the morning session concerning the Santo Domingo question was composed during the noon recess. The congress unanimously voted that Mr. Gompers should send a note to President Wilson merely requesting that the evacuation of Santo Domingo be accelerated.

Where Standard Oil Efficiency Is Needed Most

IN the ten Middle Western States I served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) there is one automobile for each 9 persons. It is estimated that 65% of these vehicles are owned by farmers. That is why the utmost of efficiency in refining, manufacturing, and distributing gasoline and other petroleum products is needed most in this great territory.

To indicate the tremendous increase in the number of cars and trucks, the following statement of 1919 and 1920 registrations by states is given:

STATES	1919	1920
So. Dakota	104,625	122,040
Iowa	363,000	442,200
Minnesota	259,743	323,572
Missouri	229,577	295,817
Kansas	228,601	265,385
No. Dakota	82,885	90,840
Michigan	296,378	412,275
Wisconsin	236,974	303,246
Indiana	277,255	332,207
Illinois	478,438	569,127
	2,557,476	3,156,709

To enable these machines to operate in all weather, under all conditions, and wherever they may be located, an adequate supply of gasoline is needed. To supply this need is the constant endeavor of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The refineries operated by this Company are working night and day to increase the yield of gasoline taken from crude oil, without in any way sacrificing the quality of the gasoline.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operates a distribution system maintained at as near to 100% efficiency as is humanly possible. To do this calls for a minute and unwearied study of local conditions, and for constant anticipation of future needs.

All activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are co-ordinated to the highest degree of efficiency to insure maximum economy.

Thus in the Middle West, where efficiency is needed most, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is performing this essential economic service to the benefit of all the people.

RIVAL TICKETS OF C. A. A. END HOT CAMPAIGN TODAY

'Insurgents' Put Up Hard Fight for W. J. Mohr.

Members of the Chicago Athletic Association have been deluged with campaign literature for the last week and a record vote is looked for when balloting starts at noon today in what promises to be one of the most hotly contested elections in the history of the organization.

A peppy campaign in favor of an insurgent ticket was launched after the nominating committee had deviated from the regular custom of nominating the vice president, William J. Mohr, for the presidency. Instead the committee named a regular ticket headed by Fred Y. Coffin for president, Charles F. Thompson for vice president and Robert E. Kenyon for secretary.

The "insurgents" held a caucus at which Mohr was nominated for president, Wilbur D. Nesbit for vice president, and Charles F. Minor for secretary. Lucius Teter is named for treasurer on both tickets.

The "insurgents," with George Nathan as campaign manager, opened headquarters in room 901 and started such a whirlwind campaign among the members that John Morrison, campaign manager for the regulars, was forced to follow suit to prevent his ticket from being defeated.

"There is considerable feeling over the outcome," said Richard J. Collins, "but the whole thing will be forgotten within a few days after election. Fourteen of the eighteen members of the nominating committee voted for Coffin, and I think the regular ticket will carry."

The "insurgents" however, claim a different story will be told after the polls close at 6 p. m. today.

TOLEDO POLICE PREPARE BATTLE WITH SLAYERS

Have Robber-Murderers Pinned, They Believe.

Toledo, O., Jan. 17.—Police early tonight arrested Royce Richardson, a Negro, who is said to have been the driver of the car used by five robbers at noon today in the robbery of a New York Central ticket agent and the shooting to death of two railroad detectives.

The thieves are believed to be surrounded in a house a mile from the scene of the robbery. Detectives armed with shotguns were preparing to raid the place when an accident at the city power house put all lights out of commission and caused delay.

Richardson was in bed when arrested. The police found $2,200 hidden under the mattress and an additional $125 was found on the Negro when he was searched. This is about one-sixth of the amount stolen, police say. A Negro woman also was placed under arrest.

The dead officers are Sergt. Louis Schroeder and Detective A. E. Long. The ticket agent is J. H. Breed. When the automobile they occupied left the Union station it was followed by another car containing five men and the driver. A block from the station the second car crowded the first into the curb. Two of the thieves opened fire, killing the two railroad officers. Then the bandits shot their way through a mass of citizens and escaped.

Five men were arrested late tonight in connection with the robbery when the police raided a luncheon.

Detroit Messenger Robbed. Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17.—Automobile thieves held up a messenger for the Highland Park State bank in Highland Park, a suburb, late today and escaped with about $2,000.

DENTISTS OF U. S. TO GATHER HERE FOR CONVENTION

The teeth of a nation will be discussed Jan. 27, 28, and 29, when the Chicago Dental society conducts its annual clinic and mouth hygiene meeting at the Congress and Auditorium hotels. Children will receive particular attention.

Dentists from all over the United States will attend. Features will be seven mouth hygiene demonstrations, which will include the examination and the charting of the mouths of school children and the cleaning and polishing of the teeth; a tooth brush drill, and preventive work. A series of lectures for the public will be given at the Auditorium on the afternoon of Jan. 28, the first one at 2:30 o'clock.

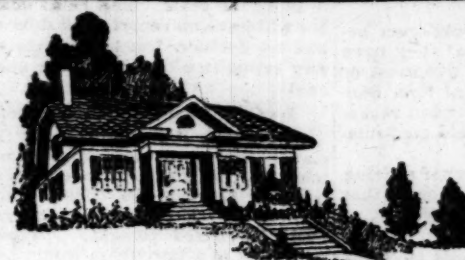

Dr. George G. Knapp, president of the Chicago Dental society, will preside.

PREDICT VOTE TO KEEP HOUSE PRESENT SIZE

Washington, Jan. 17.—Lines were drawn sharply tonight for a fight to-morrow to defeat the reapportionment bill, which would increase the membership of the house of representatives from 435 to 483.

Leaders announced a substitute plan, holding seats to the present total, would be adopted by a big majority.

There seemed little sentiment for a larger house. Members from states which would lose representation under the shifting of twelve seats from eleven to eight states, declared they would vote against adding forty-eight representatives at a cost of approximately $1,500,000 a year, when there is a crying demand from all quarters for governmental economy.

3 DOCTORS ASK $100,000 EACH FOR LOST OFFICE

Owner of the Mallers Building Sued.

Three damage suits for $100,000 each were filed in Circuit court yesterday. They represented the day's developments in the Mallers building rent controversy that came to a climax Saturday morning, when four physicians found their office furniture and other equipment piled in a corridor on the sixteenth floor.

The plaintiffs are Drs. H. W. Allport, world war veteran; David G. Marks, and P. H. Welch, and are represented by Attorney Robert R. Mox, Dr. L. C. Calkin, who was also evicted, is a defendant of Dr. Welch. The physicians contend they were evicted in violation of a lease that does not expire until April, 1922.

Attorney Frederick Burnham, representing John B. Mallers Jr., the defendant in the suits, said the tenants had themselves abandoned the lease, whose provisions they now seek to invoke.

Great Patients at Elevator.
Meanwhile the physicians, all specialists, were greeting their patients at the elevator shaft on the sixteenth floor. With a rueful wave of the hand one of them would profess explanation of their plight by indicating the office equipment which stood in the Mallers building employees' stock yard.

Dr. Allport was inclined to be facetious.

"The light is rather poor here," he told one patient, "but if you'll just sit down on the stairway I'll see what I can do for you."

Dr. O. L. Schmidt, erstwhile next door neighbor of the evicted tenants, suggested that Dr. Allport bring the patient into Dr. Schmidt's office.

Told to Take Their Goods.
"They don't even let us get at our instruments," complained Dr. Welch.

"O yes, we will," contradicted John I. Johansson, agent for the building. "You may take your goods any time you will, and if they are not out of here tomorrow we shall store them."

"These doctors," said Attorney Burnham, "had been occupying a suite under a lease signed in 1917. This lease gave them the privilege of renewal each year until April, 1922, providing they declared their intention to renew before Feb. 1 each year and actually signed the renewal before March 1. In 1918 and 1919, when office space was plentiful, they did not do this, thus abandoning the original lease; in 1920, when offices were at a premium, they sought to invoke the terms of the old lease."

TRICKS OF MAGIC AND MUSCLE ROUT PSYCHIC COUPLE

Shudders passed up and down the spines of Dill Pickles as they jammed the Tucker Palace barn while members of the Chicago Conjurers' club, affiliated with the International Order of Magicians, last night sought to prove their assertion that the spiritualists are "the bunk."

Spots suddenly appeared on dice. Questions were asked and answered by the unseen. Messages came from the ether and, alas, Perry Taylor, president of the magicians, seemed to be making good his claims.

"Francello" and his assistant, "De Jong," spiritualists were of but not in sympathy with the gathering. They first tried psychic roughhouse on the magicians. It didn't work. Then some one started physical roughhouse. But Jack Jones, chief pickler, was prepared.

Ed Gernert of the steamfitters' union, and a man known only as "The Terrible Dane" cooperatively discouraged the disgruntled spiritualists. Somebody called the East Chicago avenue police. The meeting broke up.

The loot included three diamond rings worth $1,500, $1,000, and $450. The police believe the burglar is the same man who a few days ago robbed the home of N. R. Arrested in Loop for Taking Woman's Purse

Edward Jones, 56 years old, 4106 North Lincoln street, who said he is a machinist, was arrested at State and Washington streets yesterday by Traffic Policeman W. C. Rowe. MRS. M'CORMICK WILL BE BURIED HERE TOMORROW

Friends All Over Nation Wire Condolences.

Mrs. Harriet Hammond McCormick, wife of Cyrus Hall McCormick of the International Harvester company, who died early yesterday morning in St. Luke's hospital, will be buried tomorrow afternoon in the family plot at Graceland cemetery.

Pallbearers Named.
The active pallbearers will be Frederick Chatfield, William McCormick Blair, Howard Linn, Richard Bentley, F. A. Steuert, Francis P. Butler, Henry Hooper, John Wentworth, Laurence Smith, and Robert S. Sturgis.

The honorary pallbearers will be: Edgar A. Bancroft, Cyrus H. Adams, John V. Farwell, Horace H. Martin, Thomas D. Jones, C. L. Hutchinson, John P. Wilson, M. A. Ryerson, Alex. Legge, Fred'k T. West, Marvin Hughtitt, Dr. G. S. Isham, Watson F. Blair, John J. Giesner. Mrs. McCormick's death followed an operation performed on Jan. 6. Her condition had been considered favorable until Saturday, when she suffered a relapse. She died at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

At the bedside were Mr. McCormick, their two sons, Cyrus and Gordon; Mr. McCormick's brother and sister, Harold F. McCormick, and Mrs. Emmons Blaine, and a number of intimate friends.

Friends advised that Mr. McCormick's mother, Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, Sr., remain at her Lake Forest home. She is 87 years old.

Condolences were received yesterday from all over the United States. Mrs. McCormick was one of Chicago's notable women.

Devoted to Children's Welfare.
Her child welfare work was of national scope, and was accomplished through the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial fund, the present director of which is Mrs. Ira Couch Wood. The fund was founded in memory of Mr. and Mrs. McCormick's only daughter, who died in 1905 at the age of twelve.

In 1911 Mrs. McCormick promoted the Child Welfare exhibit at the Coliseum. Later, operating through the public school system, she established nutrition and health classes throughout the city. For this purpose she brought here Dr. W. R. P. Emmerson of Boston. She also opened an open air school for tubercular children on the roof of Hull house.

Another of her charitable interests was the Visiting Nurse association. For many years she was active in its management. A perpetual endorsement now provides for the maintenance of six nurses to visit the homes of the needy. She was a member of the Woman's City club, the Chicago Woman's club, the Fortnightly, of which for two years she was president, and the Friday club. She was also president of the latter club for two years. She was one of the founders of the Garden Club of Illinois.

Mrs. Wood said: "Mrs. McCormick was a rare example of a woman who combines with a deep love of home and a passionate devotion to her own children a vision large enough to include the life of her community in all its finer phases and a comprehension of its needs. Her contributions to all charitable and philanthropic work was constructive and never merely palliative."

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, president of the Woman's City club, said: "In Mrs. McCormick's death Chicago has lost one of its greatest citizens. The responsibilities of wealth and position were serious matters for her, and she never lent her name to a cause unless she had investigated and found it worthy. She was essentially a woman of simple tastes, a lover of simple things—birds and trees and flowers."

Mrs. McCormick was one of the first society leaders of the city to sponsor the suffrage movement.

Active During War.

During the war she served as treasurer of the woman's committee of the National Council of Defense, Illinois division. She early saw the need for women to organize and meet the demands of war service. More than 1,000 community centers for child welfare work among children of overseas fighting men were financed during the war through the Elizabeth McCormick memorial fund.

Mrs. McCormick was born Dec. 21, 1862, at Newport, England. Her father was George Woodbury Hammond, an American sea captain. Her mother was English. She came to America at an early age and lived with her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond Stickney, wife of Edward Stickney, one of the pioneer meat packers of Chicago. The Stickneys built the mansion at 60 East Huron street, where the McCormicks now live during the winters. They have also a large estate at Lake Forest.

She was married to Cyrus Hall McCormick on March 5, 1889, at St. Mary's-by-the-Sea, Monterey, Cal.

JEANETTE MOE IN RACE FOR GIRLS' SILVER SKATES

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

That a greater number of girls will take part in this Tribune Skating Derby for girls, to be held in connection with the Senior Silver Skates and Junior Silver Skates derbies at Humboldt park Jan. 30, than in any race of its kind ever held in Chicago, is evident by the number of entries being received daily. Although Miss Rose Johnson of the Northwest Skating club, international woman, is a champion, will rule a strong favorite, other girls skaters believe they have a chance to dethrone the champion, or win a pair of nickel plated skates, which will go to the winner of second place, or a pair of bronze blades, to be the permanent possession of the third place victor.

Miss Jeanette Moe of Mozart playground, who has been runner-up to Miss Johnson in two races this season, yesterday sent in her entry. Miss Moe, a product of the playground, is rapidly acquiring racing experience and may give the favorites a much harder fight than expected. Miss Moe is training every day on the playground rink and because of the distance of the race—880 yard heats—believes she will have a better chance than in a shorter contest.

Miss Evelyn Cox of Waters playground, who won one of the races for playground skaters two years ago, is another entrant. Miss Cox's father expects to show some of her dad's skill. Yesterday's nominations increased the total to thirty-five for the girls' derby, and when the list closes next Monday it is expected there will be at least seventy-five hopefuls to face the starter Jan. 30.

Three Quirk Boys Enter.
Lightning A. Co., one of the foremost skating organizations in Chicago, has entered a team headed by the three Quirk brothers—Paul, Henry, and Lawrence—for the senior derby. David ("Hogan") Schultz, who has shown improvement this year, is another formidable entry, as are John Petz and George Cadotte.

That hopes of local class A skaters of winning the senior race, may be shattered is shown by the receipt of the entry of L. J. Grattan of the Hippodrome Skating club of St. Paul. Grattan, who is now making Chicago his home, was one of the best skaters developed in the Twin cities.

Bartnick Slams Pins for Sixteen Straight Strikes.
Frank Bartnick, who runs a newsstand at Division street and Milwaukee avenue, made 16 straight strikes yesterday afternoon at the American College alleys, Ashland and Milwaukee avenues. He was competing in a four handed game. Sixteen strikes represent a total of 880.

FARM and GARDEN

FARMERS are no longer confining their interests to the growing of corn and the feeding of hogs in the corn belt states where these two crops are most prominent. They are becoming more interested in the marketing and the price they get for the corn and hogs when they are sold, and the profits they make.

Probably the most satisfactory figures in this line were gathered by the farm bureau federation and the State college in Iowa last year. It was found it cost on the average of ninety cents to produce a bushel of corn in Iowa last season. This is the lowest average cost reported.

Trained crop experts, working in seven counties, investigated 337 farms. The value of the land and the interest on the money invested was taken into account. If the seed corn was picked from the farmer's crib feed prices were charged. Man labor was allowed 35 cents an hour, and horse labor 20 cents an hour. If a tractor was used $1.50 an hour was allowed.

The cost varied, due to difference in land and other factors, ranging from 55 cents to $1.85 a bushel. These figures will perhaps serve as an indication of the cost of producing corn in other sections of the middle west.

A GUN INVITES NOOSE

WOODS and WATERS

DEER SEEN IN FOREST PRESERVE.

BY LARRY ST. JOHN.

HAVE you seen any wild deer in the vicinity of Chicago? Sometimes they are animals that have escaped from nearby game farms, but often they are sure 'nough wild deer that come down from Wisconsin or from the Mississippi river bottom lands, where they are not uncommon. Isn't a bit of woodland, where there is a possibility of seeing a wild deer, a hundred times more interesting than it would be otherwise?

Deer are seen occasionally in the woods today I made an interesting observation, which seems worthy of report. I can across a white tailed deer (doe) in the forest preserve, Thatcher's woods, River Forest. I thought, of course, that it must be an animal which had been placed there by the forest preserve commissioners, but on returning home I inquired of the keeper at the entrance of the woods, if they had placed any deer in the preserve, and he said they had not, and was very much excited over the discovery.

"There are instances, of course, of deer coming down from the north over more or less well-defined trails along the valleys of the Chicago river (north branch) and the Desplaines river, but it seldom happens.

"I live at River Forest, about half a mile from where the deer was seen, and upon returning home I called up one of the commissioners, Mr. Carolan, who is a neighbor of mine, and he said the commissioners had a few deer at Palatine, and possibly one of the animals had escaped from the preserve there, though he did not think so. While the deer was wild, I was able to get close enough twice to observe her carefully.

"I spend all my spare time in the woods and fields, in nature study, and

WESTMORELAND CLUB IS GRANTED WOMEN'S WESTERN GOLF EVENT

BY JOE DAVIS.

In addition to obtaining the western amateur championship, the Westmoreland Country club of Chicago will be the battlefield for the annual championship of the Women's Western Golf association.

Mrs. Hathaway Watson, president of the W. W. G. A., announced last night that the dates would be Aug. 22 to 27. Dates in the other annual women's events will be fixed later.

Miss Marion Hollins, of New York, recently notified Mrs. Watson she intended to compete in the British Women's championship starting at Turnberry, Scotland, May 30. Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of Philadelphia and Mrs. William A. Gavin, former Metropolitan champion, also intend to compete.

Mrs. Watson last week received a letter from Miss Alexia Stirling saying she was going over. Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago also plans to play, but Mrs. P. C. Letts Jr., the western champion, has not reached a decision.

A GUN INV

VAUGHN FIRST TO SIGN UP UNDER NEW B. B. CODE

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Big Jim Vaughn, supreme southpaw pitcher of the Cubs, was the first ball player to sign his name to one of the new contracts drawn up last week, when the magnates of organized baseball assembled here and reconstructed the rules and laws to govern the game. Big Jim dropped into the office of President Veeck yesterday while Manager Evers was there, and after an hour's conference accepted terms and everything else the new form of contract contains, then attached his signature.

The big star is conducting a delicatessen store in the neighborhood of the ball park and is spending his time in the winter sliding and chess for the customers seeking ready made victuals.

In Movies as a Tradesman.

Vaughn does his work so well that recently a movie company dispatched a camera man to the store and action pictures and closeups were taken of the diamond artist at his winter profession. They are being shown about the city now, but the fans who live near the ball park see the real action.

President Veeck procured a bunch of the new contract forms yesterday morning and was the first club president to get them.

A few hours later Vaughn stepped into the office and signed one, so there is little doubt that he was the first player to accept one of the new forms. Quite a number of players in both leagues are signing for next season, but their names are on the old contract, and will be transferred when the opportunity presents.

Pledges His Sportsmanship. Quite a lot of the reading matter in the old form has been changed entirely. The new contract is quite simple and straightforward in its wording. It makes it quite plain to the player that he is bound to give the best in him and to conduct himself according to the standards of best citizenship and sportsmanship. It states plainly that the player submits himself to the discipline of the baseball commissioner and agrees to accept his decisions.

With the signing of Vaughn, Manager Evers has a large part of his pitching staff lined up for next season, because both Grover Alexander and George Tyler are signed, having come to terms last fall. They will have to sign again.

Predicts Cubs in the Fight. Manager Evers has arranged to leave Chicago today for a few more weeks at his home in Troy before coming back to stay for the season. He still has hopes of making a trade that will benefit the Cubs, but even if it fails to go through he believes he will have a team that will be in the fight all the way.

THE GUMPS—WHEN GREEK MEETS GREEK

"GIVE US THE OLD BUS TO PUT PEP IN BOYS," SAYS MANAGER EVERS

"WHAT baseball needs is the good old bus that used to tote the team to and from the park." Johnny Evers was doing the talking. He was having his say in an argument over what the game needs to put it beyond pillow peepers and "Honest Abe's." Some said this new tribunal would do it and others said that what the pastime craves is a good big dose of Jefferson simplicity—or, better yet—Ansonian simplicity.

The famous old second baseman—and present manager of the Cubs—believes in both. But he has got one old time idea in his head, and that is the value of the old players' bus.

"Remember how the manager and his team used to pile out of the hotel and into the bus," he said. "If we were the visiting team the town was there to see and cheer at us. Away we would go across the town, the entire route one long line of yelling home town boosters. By the time the park was reached everybody had heard something that made him full of fight."

"After the game we would pile back into the bus. A couple of thousand fans would stand around and give us a good shouting, and go home. We got it coming and going, and we loved it."

"How is it today? Morning practice makes the front of the park look like an automobile show. The players breeze in at the last minute and breeze out as quickly as they can change clothes. The manager never sees his men altogether except at game time. The players are too busy keeping dates with everybody in the world, from movie promoters to soap manufacturers."

"That is the reason players today are not as smart collectively as they were a few years ago. They don't spend enough time learning baseball."

Major Leagues Pick Aug. 1 as Trade Closing Date

New York, Jan. 17.—An agreement has been reached by the National and American leagues to make Aug. 1 the closing date for the buying or trading of players between major league clubs. After Aug. 1 players can go from one major club to another only by the waiver route. Last season the American league set July 1 as the final date, and the National, Aug. 20.

Wilson had a clean cut advantage in eight rounds. Chip outpointed him in the fifth, and the closing round was even.

The champion was never in danger. He used a right jab effectively to offset Chip's rushes, and was the aggressor throughout.

Three times Wilson had victory by the knockout route in his grasp, only to let it slip away. The bell interfered once and on the other occasions it looked as if he eased up purposely. The crowd resented this action.

Three weights were announced as: Wilson, 162 pounds; Chip, 158 pounds. The crowd was estimated at 6,800.

J. P. SOUSA ONE DOWN IN 107 DUELS AT TRAP WITH WEALTHY RIVAL

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—John Philip Sousa, noted bandmaster, and Isaac Andrews, South Carolina capitalist, who jointly attended most of the important trap shooting tournaments held in this country and Canada in recent years, are doing their best to down each other at the midwinter trap tournament here.

Andrews had won fifty-three traps from Sousa and the JOHN PHILIP SOUSA latter had won fifty-two from Andrews, as the result of the 105 tournament duels in which they had indulged up to the end of 1920, but Sousa won at Camden last week and evened the score.

Today's 150 targets in the midwinter tournament marked the beginning of the rubber, so to speak, and Andrews drew first blood with 121 breaks, as against 117 for his noted opponent.

John H. Noel of Nashville and Tracy Lewis of New York tied as guns, each breaking 146 of the first 150 targets thrown.

The small field of contestants from Illinois and adjacent states was led by J. M. Wilcoxson of Hammond, Ind., who tied with five others for fifth in the big race at 143. The field finished as follows:

J. M. Wilcoxson, Hammond, Ind., 143; Howard W. Benson, Lansing, Mich., 142; Mark A. Chapman, Ill., 140; James F. Babinie, Muskegon, Mich., 138; M. D. McQueen, Mt. Pleasant, Ill., 136; Harry F. Bopp, Lansing, Mich., 135; H. L. Brubaker, Chicago, 133; Earl C. Buchanan, Burlington, Wis., 118; Walter Peacock, Chicago, 108.

The commission met today and heard evidence submitted by Dr. C. W. Mager, a member of the commission, and Referee Walter Houlihan, that White did not put forth his best efforts in the Kenosha scrap. Houlihan said he warned White repeatedly, and that finally, upon the recommendation of Dr. Mager, stopped the bout. There was no criticism of Freedman's work.

It is up to promoter Bill Frasier as to whether White will be paid. His guarantee was tied up, but disposition of the money is not within the jurisdiction of the commission.

KOCKLER'S SPEED TIES LEADERS IN SIX DAY GRIND

Ernest Kockler, the Chicago rider who as an amateur won a place on the American Olympic team, set the bike racing fans into enthusiastic comment at the Coliseum last night when he won three of the ten two mile sprint races which are a daily feature of the grind.

Kockler, who is making his debut in the professional game with the Coliseum race, somewhat handicapped as the result of two hard spills on Sunday, but he showed to great advantage in last night's sprint. His riding put himself and teammate, Chasley Ostermiller of Newark, into a tie with the favorite, Ray Easton, Newark, and Fred Hill, Boston, with seventeen points.

One Team May Drop Out. At midnight the cyclists had completed 455 miles and three laps of the one-tenth mile track. Spencer was forced to leave the track after a smash-race which was a daily feature of the grind.

At 12:30 o'clock Al Magnus and Townsend Netherer offered $250 to the team that would gain a lap on all the others. They kept their money, but in the jam the Drobach and Ryan and the Stein and O'Shay teams each lost a lap.

Up to 1 o'clock this morning eight of the teams had broken into the point column, with the standing as follows: Ernest Kockler, Chicago, and Chasley Ostermiller, New York, 17 points. Ray Easton, Newark, and Fred Hill, Boston, 14. Jake Nagn, Newark, and Eddie Madden, Newark, 14. Alie MacBath, Australia, and Cecil Walker, Australia, 6. Linoleum for Kitchen Floors

LINOLEUM supplies many needed qualities when it is used as a kitchen floor-covering. It is noiseless, easily cleaned, does not stain readily, and does not cause fatigue as matly less yielding coverings may. To show the possibilities of Linoleum in the kitchen, a well-appointed model kitchen has been placed in the Linoleum Section, and additional samples of varied colors and styles of Linoleums are displayed on the floor nearby.

Estimates will be cheerfully supplied. We can lay Linoleum in any manner desired.

For Immediate Clearance—several patterns have been reduced. Early selection is advised.

Third Floor, Wabash Avenue.

Our Higher Grades of Furniture Offer Attractive Possibilities for Savings

IT IS in the higher-priced lines of our Furniture that our recent reductions make the most impressive savings possible. Furniture fit for the most artistic interiors, in which the utmost refinements of the upholsterers' and the cabinet-makers' art are combined, are marked at prices far below what they formerly were. So low are these prices, indeed, that they far outstrip the reductions recently made by manufacturers. They anticipate any possible further reduction to such an extent that immediate purchase would be the part of greatest wisdom.

Oak Italian Dining Set, at Remarkably Low Prices

THIS Set, with its dignified lines, drawn from early Italian periods, is one well worthy of the finest home. In oak, finished to bring out the best of its grain, the design is of marked simplicity. The Table, with five side Chairs and one Armchair, is $295. The Sideboard, $175. The China Cabinet, $153. Server, $55. All pieces have fine white oak interiors; cabinet work is of superb quality.

A Well-made Bedroom Suite at Lowered Prices

THIS Set bears the mark of a distinguished maker; it is in a correct Queen Anne design, in walnut with burl panels as a foil. All the pieces have mahogany as an interior wood. Prices are: Bed, full size, $125; Twin size, $175; the pair; Dresser, $175; Chiffonier, $150; Chest, $112; Dressing Table, $98; Night Stand, $35; Bench, $30; Chair, $39; Rocker, $40.

Three Living Room Groups Attractively Priced

THESE groups are distinguished for their excellent design, splendid materials and their fine workmanship. These qualities stand out unmistakably in each piece, so much so that they form a collection of masterpieces. They are purely representative; save in one case there is but one piece of a kind. Yet note the prices:

Sofa, with luxurious upholstery, down pillows, covered in very fine figured blue mohair, $295. Armchair to match, $149. Solid mahogany Library Table, carved, decorated in rich polychrome, $475.

Chest, after the manner of the early Italian Chests, in walnut, in antique finish, $150. High-Back Armchairs, with covering of rich tapestry, trimmed with antique finish nails, $135 each.

Overstuffed Sofa, on a carved mahogany frame, in a fine mohair covering that is noted for its weave and color. Exceptionally fine upholstery, $325. High-backed Armchair to match, $145.

Interesting Special Values in Oriental Rugs

ONE should really see the Rugs mentioned here, if only for the glimpse of their beauty of color, texture, and design. Prices are very low considering their quality. In the list, the color mentioned is merely the predominating one in the Rugs' color-scheme.

Kazak (blue), 50x84, $120. Saracen (light blue), 7.1x8.1, $375. Cabistan (blue), 50x, 10.0, $300. Seistan (tan), 6.1x9.2, $175. Peristan (rose), 7x7, $150. Seistan (blue), 6.2x8.3, $250. Deep, rich, silky Belochistan Rugs, about 2x4, $20 each. Soft, mellow-toned Kirmanshah Rugs, about 3x5, $100 each.

Bedspreads, $8.75, $12.75 —Hand-Blocked

THESE handsome Spreads are printed by hand in attractive colors on plain and figured white, and figured ecru fabrics. There are garlands and baskets of flowers, ribbonlike borders, all fresh, bright and cheerful.

For Spreads of such beauty, on fabrics of such excellent weight and weave, these prices are very reasonable. Size, 70 ins. wide by 104 ins. long.

New Open-Stock Patterns in Dinnerware

A number of new patterns have been received in the China Section. They are of a good imported ware, very notable for their beauty and gracefulness. They are two flowered patterns, one Oriental design, and a conventional pattern of blue on white.

Prices on all these patterns are exceptionally favorable, because of the conditions under which they were bought; they are available in Dinner Sets of various sizes, as well as in breakfast sets and in open stock.

Back in the Arms of the Dear Old Past

"THE KID"
Produced by First National.
Presented at the Randolph.
Featuring
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
NEW RELEASE. (Thank heaven!)

By Mae Tine.
Well, when all's said and done, you've got to admit it—baseball has its Babe Ruth, opera has its Mary Garden, THE TRIBUNE has me, and the comedies have Charlie Chaplin!—
Great is Harold Lloyd! Funny is Snooks, the monkey! But—in a class all by himself is Mr. Charles Spencer Chaplin. Absence makes the heart grow fonder of him—though you think not at the time—distance lends but disenchantment. Matrimony, alimony—naught can dim his charm. He goes into the silence. He gives us a shoulder and speak wistfully of people who make money off us and then refuse to make pictures for us. We refer triumphantly to a transferred allegiance. And then—
Along comes "The Kid." Blooey! We are back in the arms of the dear old past, and it's good to get home! (As a dear old past Mr. Chaplin may sue for libel.)

In "The Kid" the comedian isn't the kid. He's the fond adopted papa, having discovered the offspring by an ash bin one cold spring day. Who had left it there? Ah, who else but Edna Purviance? For why? For because a villain had done her wrong and she possessed not the wherewith to provide for the baby. Later she becomes a great actress. But that is later.

Well, Mr. Chaplin rears the boy as might be expected and "The Kid" becomes a miniature Chaplin, adding and abetting his benefactor in all ways. SOME kid, little Jackie Coogan. A darling and a devil in one!

There are loads of laughs in "The Kid." A few tears, too. And more real acting than you've seen in a Chaplin picture before on the part of everybody concerned. Here's the honest truth if you want it:

"The Kid" is six reels long, which is one reel too short.

Fashion's Blue Book

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—There is a decided Spanish influence in the light and short waisted dance frocks with their voluminous skirts, and this is notably present in a famous model of Lanvin which adds to a great wide skirt of black tulle a skimpy little bodice of black tulle. This same authority is found also in this model of rose color tulle dress with its trimming of silver lace, silver ribbon, and tulle roses.

Mrs. Potter Palmer's World's Fair Costume Will Be in Tableaux

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

From the costume collection at the Art Institute, costumes will be taken for the portrait tableaux which will be a feature at the annual reception of the Antiquarian society on Friday at 4 o'clock in the Antiquarian rooms at the institute.

One of the portraits will show the rose velvet dress worn by the late Mrs. Potter Palmer at the opening banquet of the world's fair. Another tableau will give a complete bridal costume which has been in the collection since the early '70s. Many other interesting costumes will be worn.

There is now on exhibition in Gun-sauls hall of the Art Institute a collection of hand wrought art silverware from the shops of Georg Jensen, the famous silversmith of Copenhagen, Denmark. The collection consists largely of exquisite tableware, lamps, candlesticks, etc.

Henry Turner Bailey, director of the Cleveland School of Art, will talk in Fullerton hall at 4 p. m. today on "Poetry as an Aid to the Students of Art." In the evening Mr. Bailey will give a "Chalk Talk on Wild Flowers" in Fullerton hall under the joint auspices of the Art Institute and the Wild Flower Preservation society.

Two important exhibitions of the year at the Art Institute will open on Jan. 25 and continue until Feb. 28, inclusive. These are the twenty-fifth annual exhibition by artists of Chicago and vicinity, and the eleventh annual exhibition of the Chicago Society of Etchers.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Blanched Orange Skin.

Of late we have come to prefer the orange rind, peel, and zest to the same of the lemon, but we may also use them together. A bit of the rind chopped fine after it is blanched, and perhaps made finer yet by sieving, sweetens a sauce in which the fat is a little rank, especially if many other seasonings like a full bouquet of vegetables have not been used in it. It is good, in small quantities, with the pot roast, especially one of a some fat meat. Wash an orange, and take off the yellow part of the skin only. Drop this into boiling water, and let blanch for fifteen minutes, when it will be cooked soft. Drain and dip in cold water and drain again. Chop fine and add to meat sauce, being careful not to use too much. A teaspoon is probably enough for a cup of strong meat gravy, like one for roast duck.

What remains of the skin may be dried and ground fine and used in tiny quantities to sprinkle over cream soups, especially those which, like cream of tomato, are sometimes served with a carmel of orange.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Better Stop It.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a boy of 16. I go around with a girl, and I like her. Once in a while I kiss her or put my arms around her. She always slaps me in the face and pretends not to like it. Do you suppose she likes it or not? Should I keep on doing it? JOHN." She'll administer you a knockout one of these days, John, and I'll be there in spirit to applaud her. Are you one of those young men who can't take a hint unless a brick is tied to it?

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Auntie Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

It was Elizabeth's first visit to the farm, also her first introduction to her five aunts. Two of them were wearing the practical "women-a-lis." Elizabeth puzzled long over their status.

"Mamma, are all these my aunts?" she asked.

"Yes," answered her mother.

Elizabeth pondered: "Mamma, I thought pants made uncles." M. C.

Johnny, who already had two younger sisters, had been promised a baby brother, much to his delight. When the eventful day arrived the nurse told him the story had brought another darling baby sister. Poor Johnny was disappointed. Shortly afterwards his father found him alone in his bedroom and asked him how he liked his new sister. "Aw," said Johnny, hopelessly, "it's gettin' too crowded around here!" G. H.

Faded Ago to Smoke.
Some time ago, on leaving for a business trip, my wife drove me to the station. After boarding the train I placed my bag on a seat about in the center of the day coach and went into the smoking room for a puff. On returning I opened my bag to get a handkerchief and discovered a box right on top which proved to be a box of home made fudge. I am particularly fond of sweets, and, thinking friend who had slipped in the box at the last moment as a surprise, I began to eat. When I went to replace the box I noticed a powder puff and a box of rouge in the bag. "Now, wait," I said to myself, "this is going a bit too far."

About which time I became aware of the presence of some one standing behind me. Glancing up, I saw a young woman evidently much annoyed at something. In a voice like the north pole she said: "Pardon me, you are occupying my seat. Besides, I hardly think there is anything in that bag that would interest you." F. E. H.

EXPORTERS BUY WHEAT ON BREAK; GRAINS ADVANCE

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Contrary to trade expectations, the grain markets failed to hold their early break, although the bulk of the news at the start was favorable to the selling side. Lowest prices were made at the start and the highest in the last hour. There were net gains of 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 on wheat, while corn was up to 1/2 to 3/4, oats 1/2 to 3/4, and rye 1/2 to 3/4. Barley was off 1/4 with trading light.

On many occasions of late, the foreigner took advantage of the break in wheat to relieve the market of its surplus offerings. They bought all the trade would sell.

Germany Buys Wheat.
Germany took 1,600,000 bu on Saturday, only part of which was reported that day, and was in the market again yesterday. This, with buying by others than the British commission, was the basis for buying by local operators, and at the last export business was placed at 1,600,000 bu, while millers took 25,000 bu here.

The significant feature of the export trade was the purchase of 240,000 bu at the Gulf for April shipment. Cash premiums here were lower on hard winter and spring and 50¢ off on red winter relatively to March. Southwestern offerings were lighter, but the primary movement was nearly 800,000 bu more than a week ago, compared with 1,381,000 bu last year. The visible supply decreased 3,025,000 bu, compared with 4,472,000 bu last year. Chicago has only 852,000 bu, a loss of $60,000 bu for the week, leaving this market with a supply too limited for the size of the trade.

On the bulge houses with Omaha connections as well as locals were selling for profits. Prices at their best were up 3/4 to 1/2 on the low point of the morning. Australia reported the worst storm in seventy years, which is likely to damage the crop.

Large Run of Corn.
Corn was sold early on receipt of 556 cars, the largest of the season. Traders became too bearish and oversold on the break of 1/2 from the close of Saturday. Support developed on the decline from the best interests and a covering movement later carried prices up 1/2 from the low point, with the close at the top. Cash lots were taken by elevator interests.

Oats sold at a new low level and were supported on the break by the sellers of last week. Cash houses were the main sellers of the crop. The visible supply of Chicago has only 18,000 bu rye, a loss of 281,000 bu last week. This checks cash business here. "Shorts" were the best buyers.

Provisions Have Bulge.
Provision prices advanced and closed with pork up 40¢, lard 12¢ to 15¢, and ribs 45¢ higher than Saturday. This in the face of larger receipts of hogs and an increase in stocks above expectations, especially in short ribs. Prices were lighter in hams and bellies. Trade followed.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Foreign demand for wheat was active, with confirmation secured on sales of 1,040,000 bu via the Gulf. Of that 240,000 bu were for April shipment at about 20¢ over March. Omaha sold 120,000 bu to exporters. Premiums on the Gulf were firmer, with January and February loading quoted at 23¢ and March at 24 1/2¢ over the Chicago March delivery. Sales of corn for export in all ports were 755,000 bu.

DRY GOODS MARKETS.
NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Lines of printed piece goods today were temporarily withdrawn from sale because of the large volume of goods now under order to April 1 and advancing costs of gray cloth. Cotton yarns made another sharp advance. Knit goods lines were opened on lower price levels. Spot markets were quiet.

The New York Times.

New York, Jan. 17.—(Special).—The week began on Wall Street today with a renewed advance in European exchange, further recovery in practically all the Liberty bonds and a money market which showed continued tendency toward easier rates, while the stock market recovered a rise of speculative life in the street railway shares, relapsed into purposeless fluctuations.

The movement of foreign exchange was perhaps the most noteworthy for it occurred on the basis of an unusually large and steady business, which seemed to originate on both sides of the ocean. The fact should again be emphasized in explaining this show of strength that last autumn's decline of sterling particularly was much more a consequence of acute money stringency in America than of the ordinary incidents of international finance. Therefore, the recovery on the disappearance of the American money strain has been logical.

Credit Situation Changes.

In days when Europe as well as America maintained gold redemption of its currencies sterling would decline in the face of abnormally high money rates at New York. The sales of bills which caused the decline on those occasions represented transfers from London's deeper money market of American or foreign capital to be loaned in Wall Street.

That process did not cut a figure in precisely the same way on last autumn's market, but the principle was the same. The sale of sterling last October and November reflected the effort of American bankers or business men who possessed London credit balances on which they had not drawn at the low existing rates to call home some credits at a time of urgent need, even if the sacrifice was large. The position is now being rapidly reversed; it is as profitable to have according London credits to be loaned on Lombard street as to bring them to New York, and there is little reason for supposing that the movement will not continue.

Stocks Are Irregular.

After a day of generally meaningless fluctuations the stock market ended with about as many net declines as net advances. Most of the changes were unimportant, and the day's transactions were hardly one-half as large as on Monday of last week. The one exception was in the street railway companies, whose stock and bonds rose several points on the movement to introduce a bill for increased fares in the legislature.

United Fruit sold "ex" the 100 per cent stock dividend and the price was cut almost exactly in two, the close being 163, compared with 205½ on Saturday.

In today's Wall Street money market there was little or no change. Time loans on stock exchange collateral were again made around 6 per cent, which was fractionally under the day's London rate, although that market also was slightly easier. Call money held on the stock exchange all day at the uniform 4 per cent rate but there it was lowered last Thursday, but loans were occasionally reported as obtainable on the street at 3.

U. S. NAGGING AT PACKERS INCITES BRITISH TO DO SO

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—(Special)—Charging that "the deliberate circulation in foreign countries by the federal trade commission of its false and unjust charges against the American packers" has resulted in proposed action by the British government detrimental to them, the Institute of American Meat Packers today sent letters to all members of congress.

Accompanying the letters were copies of an "Interim report on the meat situation in the United Kingdom" dated Nov. 9, 1920, and presented to the British parliament by a subcommittee of the standing committee on trade.

What England Plans.
It is declared that the federal trade commission's report was distributed to the foreign nations through the American consular service at the instance of the commission. Recommendations of the British subcommittee as quoted by the institute include the following:

"That it should be the declared policy of his majesty's government to prevent the share of the beef trade to go in foreign hands from increasing. That the foreign meat companies should be taxed not only on their profits in the United Kingdom, but on their profits, whether as producers or merchants, and whether brought to the United Kingdom or not."

"Invasion of Argentina."
"That the Las Palmas meat works in Argentina should continue to be operated on behalf of his majesty's government as 'the possession of the Las Palmas works gives the government an observation post of great value in the very center of the operations of the American meat companies.'"

"That the governments of the various consuming and producing countries should take 'such common action as may be required' to limit the business of the American companies."

BANK POSITION WELL FORTIFIED, CONTROLLER SAYS
Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—(Special)—John Skelton Williams, controller of the currency, declared today the national banks are in a strong condition.

Charges of inflation he regarded as unwarranted as far as the national banking system was concerned.

Mr. Williams' statement covers all national banks as of Nov. 15, 1920. He said that of their present strength and will fortified condition, and says that their aggregate borrowings on rediscounts and bills payable amount to only about 10 per cent of their total resources.

"A further analysis of the figures of Nov. 15, 1920," he says, "as compared with the statement of all national banks on March 4, 1919, four months after the armistice, suggests there has been far less inflation of credit and loans, at least so far as the national banks are concerned, than is popularly supposed."

"Most of our bankers," he adds, "have been healthy and restraining influence on the orgy of extravagance and speculation which raged during the eighteen months period succeeding the armistice."

"The loans and discounts of all national banks March 4, 1919, plus the United States government securities owned, which may be regarded in the light of loans to the government, but exclusive of United States bonds held to secure circulation, amounted to $12,180,000, as compared with $13,743,125,000 on Nov. 15, 1920."

California Fruit Growers
Ask Pre-War Rail Rates
The committee of seven appointed by Gov. William D. Stephens of California to represent the 10,000 fruit and vegetable growers of his state met with railway executives at the Hotel Sherman yesterday to discuss the return of freight rates and schedules to a pre-war basis.

"If the fruit and vegetable industry in California is to survive, rates and schedules of freight must be reduced," said C. E. Virden, chairman of the governor's committee.

"In my state the farmers are piling up their losses by giving away their fruit because freight rates preclude all possibility of profit."

A. G. Wells, vice president of the Santa Fé railroad, who is chairman of the railway executives, said they would come to some decision and report to the growers.
